BERKELEY, May 2.—Frank D. Stringham, former city attorney, and the entire Berkeley Municipal League ticket, including two women council members, were victorious at the polls in Berkeley yesterday at the first election to be held under the city manager form of government.

The two women, who will be the first of their sex to sit on the city council, are Mrs. Carrie Hoyt, leader in club, civic and fraternal circles, and Mrs. Agnes Claypool Moody, wife of Dr. Robert O. Moody, of the University of California, member of the faculty of Mills College and a leader in women's civic activities.

In the city auditor contest Elmer F. Bell, incumbent, ran second to Harry L. Traub, city treasurer. Councilman E. T. Harms was third. HINK IS GIVEN LARGEST VOTE.

On the board of education Lester Hink, Berkeley merchant, was re-elected by the largest vote cast at that office while Councilman Carlton T. Bartlett, an ex-officer member of the board, defeated Mrs. Carrie H. Gibbs, incumbent. It was necessary to count both first and second choice votes under the new preferential voting plan, and Bartlett in the school director contest before they were declared elected in the unofficial returns.

Firemen of Berkeley were given an increased salary scale by an overwhelming vote, their majority being almost 10 to 1. Berkeleyans voted by a substantial majority against the so-called two-cow ordinance which sought to eliminate small dairies from the city. That the election of Stringham will be contested in the supreme court was the declaration today of Joseph Fainer, Berkeley attorney, who contends that because Stringham's residence at 21 Tanglewood road in Claremont is almost directly situated in Oakland, he is disqualified to serve. STRINGHAM'S ELECTION WILL BE CONTESTED.

Berkeley's Elect

FRANK D. STRINGHAM, elected Mayor; MRS. AGNES C. MOODY (center), and MRS. CARIE L. HOYT, both elected to the city council. Mrs. Moody and Mrs. Hoyt are the first women chosen for these offices in Berkeley.

Sacramento Senator Seeks Probe of Charge Made On Anti-Alien Fish Bill.

TRIBUNE BUREAU, Sacramento, May 2.—Senator J. M. Imman of Sacramento today informed the Senate that tomorrow he would call upon Senator Edgar S. Hurley of Oakland to apologize for certain remarks attributed to Senator Hurley, which had been printed in a recent issue of the Alameda County Union Labor Accord. The Senate this morning by Senator Imman, says: "It has been called to my attention that in a recent issue of the Alameda County Union Labor Record the following occurred, being credited to Senator E. S. Hurley: 'The so-called anti-alien fish bill was shown up to be a joke. Whether it was a cinch bill, in which an attempt was being made to hold up someone, one can only surmise.' 'Notice is hereby given that upon May 3, 1923, said man will be called up on the floor of the Senate by Senator J. M. Imman upon a question of personal privilege, and Senator Hurley will be called upon to do one of the following: (1) Disavow said language in toto; (2) Give the proper apology; or (3) Justify the same.' (4) If he admits the correctness of the language and his authorship thereof, to offer an apology for the same, or (4) To answer to Senator Imman and to the Senate for said language.'"

Voters Are Asked to Grant Further Time For U. S. to Complete Plans For Great Pacific Naval Base, Depot

ALAMEDA, May 2.—Absolute confirmation of recent statements that navy department officials in Washington are keenly interested in, and confident of the ultimate success of the proposed Alameda naval base, providing the people of that city vote to extend the government's time limit for final acceptance, was received here today from Secretary of the Navy Denby personally. Word to that effect came to Mayor Frank Otis in a telegram addressed to him by the department head which declared that the navy department earnestly requests people of Alameda to reach a decision at the polls on May 3 that will allow time for the necessary steps to be taken by the nation to accept the grant.

Scaffold Ends Parallel Lives Of Two Slayers

FORT SASKATCHEWAN, Alberta, May 2.—(United Press.) A man and a woman died together on the gallows here today—for murder.

The woman had followed the man into the border country—he had followed him into the run running trade; she had followed him into a murderer's car and into a gun fight—and she followed him to the gallows. Their lives had been parallel—until the hour of death.

FIRST WOMAN IN 24 YEARS HANGED

Murder Confessed After All Efforts to Escape Trap Are Exhausted.

FORT SASKATCHEWAN, Alberta, Canada, May 2.—(By United Press.)—Through a trap on a scaffold here today dropped the dying body of Florence Lasandra—the last the world shall see of a fighting woman who died the death of a murderer, paying with her life for her lustre. She was the first woman hanged in Canada in 24 years, and one of the few ever hanged on the North American continent.

A half hour earlier Emil Picarello, beside whom she had fought and killed had gone to his death in the same way. The law had made no distinction between the woman, whose hot Latin blood—she was Italian by birth—had led her into fights strange to the quiet, olive grown slopes of her native land, and the man from Sicily who became king of the Canadian border runners.

By FRANK E. MASON, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

PARIS, May 2.—Germany's new reparations proposals received a hostile reception in Paris. It was generally accepted as a foregone conclusion that the offer would be rejected by France. French officials believe that Germany's prime object in formulating the new proposals was to draw the United States into the reparations negotiations. France will stand out upon the original program, worked out first in Paris and then reaffirmed at Brussels.

SECRETARY DENRY WIRE ASSURANCE ON ALAMEDA BASE

Congressman James H. MacLafferty will be the principal speaker Friday night at a meeting to be held in the council chambers, city hall, for the purpose of discussing the proposed extension of the naval base to the United States government for one year from January 1, 1924, as announced by the Alameda naval base citizens' committee.

The meeting will be called at 8 o'clock and is open to the public.

SAYS DUTY OF VOTERS IS TO GO TO POLLS.
ALAMEDA, May 2.—"It seems, in my estimation, a patriotic duty to go to the polls and cast his ballot in favor of the extension of the naval base lease to the United States government," declared Lewis E. Haas, representing the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, speaking at a civic meeting today of the Alameda Women's Improvement Club at Washington school. Haas pointed out in his talk the many advantages to be forthcoming in Alameda with the coming of a naval base.

Germany Sets Payment Limit at $7,500,000,000

Germany be freed from the unproductive expenses with which she now is burdened, and that she also be liberated forthwith from all political and economic restrictions. The proposals also suggest that in the event of the economic rehabilitation of Europe the countries concerned arrive at an understanding with regard to dealings in important commodities. The note expresses the opinion that in connection long-term private contracts for deliveries of coal and coke are

PAYMENTS IN KIND GUARANTEED BY CONTRACT.
Payments in kind are to be guaranteed by long term private contracts, breach or violation of which would make offenders subject to fines.
The note proposes that the first twenty billion marks of the total of thirty billion be offered for subscription immediately. Interest on bonds up to July 1, 1927, was taken out of the loans themselves and would be paid into a special fund under control of the reparation commission. If twenty billion marks cannot be raised by means of a loan before July 1, 1927, interest of 5 per cent would be paid on that sum from said date, in addition to 1 per cent for amortization.

The German government, says the note, is prepared, as was its intention in proposing the conclusion of a Rhine pact, to accept any agreement calculated to peace based on reciprocity.

TO SUBMIT CONFLICTS TO ARBITRATION COURT.
The German government, it adds, is prepared to accept any agreement binding on both Germany and France to submit all conflicts that cannot be settled in the usual diplomatic way to some kind of peaceful international procedure, that is to say, judicial conflicts, arbitration and all other conflicts to a reconciliation process after the example of the Bryan agreements. The agreements are the series of arbitration treaties negotiated by Secretary of State Bryan, during the Wilson administration, with Great Britain and other leading governments.

Fulfillment of Germany's obligations, the note continues, depends on the stabilization of her currency. Therefore it is necessary, in connection with the regulation of the reparations problem, to bring about a methodic and permanent stabilization in order to remove the apprehensions of other countries with respect to ruinous German competition. Strengthening of her currency will also enable Germany to restore her internal finances, the note says.

PLEA VOICED AGAINST FURTHER SEIZURES.
In order to realize this program, and also to safeguard the interests of those who finance the loans, the German government says it is essential that there be no more forcible seizures of securities; that no further sanctions be imposed; that

HANOVER, Germany, May 2.—"We will get revenge, if it takes a hundred years. History repeats itself. What I wish more than anything else in the world is that I might again take up arms against France."

This declaration was made today by Field Marshal von Hindenburg, commander-in-chief of the German army in wartime, in a long, frank talk with Captain B. B. McMahon of the United States army, in the field marshal's home here.

McMahon, whose home is in Indianapolis, Ind., has had charge of the last detachment of the American army of occupation which is leaving Bremen for home on the liner George Washington.

rested according to the terms of the Rhineland agreement.

The note stresses the difficulty of arriving at a tangible basis for computing Germany's economic and financial facility in her present situation and declares every solution must be sufficiently elastic to take this condition into consideration.

It should, furthermore, be noted, says the document, that Germany, owing to the lack of surplus profits from her own products will, in the near future, be unable to raise any large amounts of capital from her own resources, and that consequently she needs foreign loans which, however, can only be obtained when German credit is restored.

The note contains recurring suggestions that American recommendations in respect to the adjustment of reparations be adopted.

Reference also is made to the Bryan agreements for the arbitration of international conflicts. This is in connection with the so-called securities demanded by France.

OUTSTANDING BID FOR AMERICAN PARTICIPATION.
The outstanding bid for American participation in the solution of the reparations issue is contained in the proposition that the president of the United States name the third member of the financial commission that would decide the manner in which the sums lacking to make up the full amount of Germany's offer as to the first loan be raised.

J. F. CHAMBERS RESIGNS CIVIL SERVICE BOARD

Business Demands Given As Urgent Reason For Resignation.

John F. Chambers, a member of the civil service board for four years and its president nearly all that time, last night made farewell to the board members at the regular weekly meeting, having tendered his resignation to Mayor Davis.

Chambers was presented with a handsome traveling case by Commissioner Frank Colburn, who, in a short talk, told of the regret of city officials at losing Chambers and voiced the high respect and affection which the president of the civil service board has earned at the city hall.

After the meeting, there was an informal "smoker" and chat, during which many of the famous losses of the civil service board were reviewed in retrospect.

The successor to Chambers has not been appointed, though Sophus Nelson automatically becomes president of the board, with Ben Hammond as the other member.

Chambers' letter of resignation, as tendered formally to the mayor yesterday, was as follows:

"I herewith tender you my resignation as civil service commissioner, same to take effect as of this date. I regret that I can no longer serve in this capacity, but find it necessary to devote my entire time to my business."

"Since my appointment as a member of the civil service commission, I have endeavored to serve the city faithfully and if I have been at all successful in my efforts, I feel that it was due to your splendid co-operation and assistance, as you have always been ready to defend the civil service system."

"I want to thank all the members of the commission with whom I have had the pleasure of serving during the past four years for their loyal support, namely: Ralph T. Fischer, Col. Ralph Faneuf, Ralph Beebe, Major Harry Huber, the late Walter Hesse and the present members, Sophus Nelson and Ben Hammond."

"In conclusion, I wish to say a word on behalf of the employees of the city of Oakland, as to their competency and efficiency, it being my candid opinion that, as a whole, it would not be possible to find a more loyal or efficient force of employees."

"It ought to be the consortium which floats the loan or an international commission of business men corresponding to the proposition made by Secretary of State Hughes, on which Germany would be represented with equal rights; or an arbitration tribunal, composed of a representative of the reparation commission, a representative of the German government; and an arbitrator designated by the president of the United States in the absence of an agreement on this person-

PROF. PUTZKER, U. C. VETERAN, IS DEAD, AGED 79

Grieving Over Passing of Wife Hastens End of Noted Linguist.

BERKELEY, May 2.—Grieving over the passing of his wife last January, Professor Putzker, 79, veteran member of the University of California faculty and famous as a linguist in this country and Europe, died yesterday at Temple hospital.

According to members of his family, Prof. Putzker failed rapidly following the death of Mrs. Putzker, and refused to receive any further interest in life. He had been in failing health for some months.

Born in Austria, Professor Putzker came to this country when 18 after receiving his education in European states of learning. Coming to California a number of years later, after continuing his education in the east, Prof. Putzker became affiliated with the Santa Barbara college as president. Forty-three years ago he became associated with the faculty of the University of California in the German department, and rose to the highest position in that branch, serving as department chairman for many years. Ten years ago he retired from the faculty.

Prof. Putzker possessed intimate knowledge of 27 languages, and his ability as a linguist not only won him fame in this country but in Europe as well. Twenty years ago he was offered the position of United States consul to Greece because of his knowledge of the language and customs of that country, in which he traveled extensively, but declined the honor to continue his teaching. He was well known as a lecturer, and as the author of text books used throughout the country in teaching German and other languages. He was an early member of Durant lodge of Masons of Berkeley, the German Teachers' association, the German Club of Oakland, and other organizations.

Professor Putzker built one of the finest residences along Telegraph avenue in Berkeley, his home being numbered among a handful of houses in a district which is now a thriving center of the college community. The family home at 2420 Telegraph avenue is still occupied.

Surviving Prof. Putzker are three sons and two daughters. They are Sergeant Oscar Putzker of the Berkeley police department, Otto A. and Ralph W. Putzker, both engaged in business in Berkeley; Mrs. Henry Bovee and Mrs. William Bovee, both of Los Angeles.

Funeral services will be conducted at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Masonic temple, Hancock way and Shattuck avenue, under the auspices of Durant lodge. Burial will be in Mountain View cemetery.

Head of Berkeley Schools Reappointed

BERKELEY, May 2.—With a $200 increase in salary, Clyde Blanchard, for two years business manager of the Berkeley Board of Education, has been reappointed to that position for another year. He was also allowed $225 for traveling expenses to the annual meeting of the National Association of Public School Officials at St. Louis, May 13-15.

Blanchard reported that the Berkeley School finances are in good shape. He said the school officials have a "safety fund" of from $7500 to $10,000 above salary claims for May and June, which he said totaled $150,000.

Hayes declares the ticket seller refused him a ticket, saying: "Colored people are not allowed in here." The ticket taker confirmed this attitude by saying: "It has been a rule out here for a long time that no colored people are allowed in the rink," charges Hayes.

Boiler Explosion Causes Bad Fire

STOCKTON, May 2.—It is the generally accepted belief here that an exploding boiler caused the $75,000 fire in the National Ice and Cold Storage Plant late yesterday afternoon. The explosion in heavy doors across the street and blew out windows three blocks away.

MacLafferty Appeals for Adequate Preparedness

Calling attention to the need of the United States for military preparedness, and scoffing at beliefs that this nation will never be embroiled in another war, Congressman James H. MacLafferty, speaking at a luncheon in the ballroom of the Hotel Oakland yesterday, urged this method to illustrate the necessity of a naval base at Alameda.

Government officials, he declared, from President Harding down, recognize the importance of this project, and favor it, and if the citizens of Alameda decide to extend the time limit for acceptance of their offer of the site, the naval base will undoubtedly go through.

The need for a naval base on the Pacific coast at Alameda, the speaker pointed out, by the speaker in startling statements regarding the nation's defense system, made public for the first time. Congressman MacLafferty learned of the first hearing of the country's military problems at the recent meeting at Alameda, which he attended.

ENEMY TACTICS FORECAST "If we ever get into a war with a first class nation—and some day we will—the first thing the enemy will do is attempt to destroy the Panama canal and divide the fleet. With defenses there as they are today, it will be a first class power could destroy this canal in thirty minutes.

We are not faced by the nations of the world, as so many people would have us believe. They are of the opinion that we should forgive them and cancel their debts.

"Some day a nation is going to be so good the supremacy of the Pacific. I know that the United States does not covet this, and does not desire it from a standpoint of power. But I don't know that other nations do not."

The luncheon yesterday was Congressman MacLafferty's first appearance before a public body since his return from Washington at the close of his first year in the national capital.

A storm of applause greeted the congressman when he made his appearance and he was greeted by a chorus of "hello's" and "good-byes" in the task of representing this district in congress by Harry C. Robinson, president of the Chamber of Commerce, who delivered the introductory address.

After welcoming him to the efforts he has made to secure national recognition of the needs of this district, such as sufficient appropriations to provide for the construction of a new hospital for Oakland and federal funds for harbor development, MacLafferty went into a discussion of the broader phase of the duties of a district representative.

NAVAL BASE NEEDED

"When I asked the people of this district to send me as their representative to congress," said the speaker, "I made but one promise, and that was to work unceasingly for the betterment of the community. Now that I am back after my first six months in office, I can faithfully and honestly say that I have kept my promise. I have worked as hard as I could work, and I like my job."

MacLafferty, speaking of the naval base project, declared that the congressmen and senators in Washington, as well as the officials of the army and navy departments, are aware of the need of a naval base in the Pacific and of many other national defense measures, but because of a lack of public knowledge and pacifist propaganda, the country is antagonistic and must be altered before public officials can act freely to accomplish the things which they know definitely are for the best interests of the country.

"It is my private belief, after a thorough and careful study of the situation, that if the proposed naval base in Alameda is not located in Alameda it will be in the Hawaiian Islands. A naval base in the Pacific is absolutely necessary. The day is coming when we are going to need it badly, just as the day is coming when some nation will be acknowledged as supreme in the Pacific. I am sure that our nation is not prepared today for such a situation and that our policy will never inspire the United States to arm for this purpose, but as I said, I do not know that about other countries.

"There are too many powerful enemies of our country, not because of the government and a false feeling of security on the part of the American people, but because of the health of the nation."

"Yes, I read about that. An interview with a leading hair specialist in San Francisco also states that that doesn't include Western women."

"Well, maybe we'll lose our hair eventually, but I haven't noticed any tendencies that way myself."

"Nor I. Dodging automobiles, catching street cars and other strenuous pastimes is said to be the cause of all the coming grief, isn't it?"

"Yes, and goodness knows I do enough of both to bring on some sort of calamity."

"Yes, I do, but as far as being baldheaded is concerned, I should not worry much. I've really lost interest in trying to be beautiful. Completely discouraged."

"What? You? I hadn't noticed that you were a horrible looking hag yet."

"Well, I have just been figuring it out this way. Why fuss and fume to try to be beautiful if one can't afford some pretty clothes? I carry a store for men in at 222 13th street—Advertisement."

LOSS OF HAIR DOESN'T WORRY LOCAL BEAUTIES

"How's your hair, Evelyn? They say that women are rapidly becoming baldheaded. Some scientist or someone claims that the hectic life we are leading is the cause of balding women to lose their hair."

"Yes, I read about that. An interview with a leading hair specialist in San Francisco also states that that doesn't include Western women."

"Well, maybe we'll lose our hair eventually, but I haven't noticed any tendencies that way myself."

ALAMEDA BONDS FOR HIGH SCHOOL ARE AUTHORIZED

Issue of $750,000 Wins By 7 1/2 to 1 At Election Held Yesterday.

ALAMEDA, May 2.—Victory for the high school bonds at the election yesterday is the one subject of conversation among the Alameda school children today.

Voters of the city, by a majority of 7 1/2 to 1, cast their ballots yesterday in favor of a $750,000 bond issue for the construction of a new building to replace the present inadequate one.

A total of 5513 ballots were cast in the 42 precincts of the city. This number is looked upon as a good showing in view of the fact that the voting hours worked a hardship on the early morning and late commuters, as the polls, according to law, opened at 8 o'clock and closed at 4 o'clock.

The bond issue campaign was backed by many civic and fraternal organizations in the city and the school children of both elementary and high schools actively conducted an active drive to win the approval of the residents of the city.

The present high school was built more than twenty years ago to accommodate 500 pupils. The present enrollment in the school is 1547 pupils in the day classes.

The bonds authorized at yesterday's election will mature in forty years and bear 4 1/2 per cent interest.

PUPILS HOLD JUBILEE

Fifteen hundred pupils of the Alameda schools declared traffic in the city today with a big parade in celebration of their victory yesterday when the bonds for the new high school were carried by a majority of seven to one.

The procession was headed by the Alameda Glee club which sang songs inspired by the occasion. High school students drew an anti-quated hearse, bearing the legend, "Thus is the Alameda high school," which was led to an end by a decorated float for such an occasion.

gathered at a big rally in the Porter school after the parade, where speeches were made by those who had directed the movement for the new school. C. J. Dufour, city superintendent of schools, thanked the voters for their interest in the schools of the city.

McLean was arrested on San Pablo avenue last night by Officer R. A. Abbey, who charged him with going 45 miles an hour. This morning he entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to three days in jail.

FOREIGN MISSIONS IN RUSSIA ARE CURBED BY REDS

Cannot Get Into Touch With Real Russians Or Aid
Trade.

By FRANCIS McCULLAGH.
Special Cable to OAKLAND TRIBUNE.
Copyright, 1922, by OAKLAND TRIBUNE.
from Tuesday).—One Soviet provincial governor forbade Russians to apply at foreign relief missions without his permission, thus violating the conditions upon which the organizations entered Russia and making foreign relief helpful only to the Bolsheviks. The British representative, a brave gentleman, has been cut off from all social intercourse with the Bolsheviks. The German minister is keeping on good terms with the Reds at all costs, though the Reds treat him with scant courtesy and have not answered one out of 2,000 German claims for compensation handed in a year ago.

The presence of all missions is worse than useless, as they cannot get into touch with the real Russians or help trade, their sole business being the refusal of visas to more or less camouflaged Bolsheviks and translating Soviet newspapers, which they could do just as well in their own countries. It is unfair of any civilized government to ask gentlemen employed in its diplomatic service to go to Moscow, which means mingling socially with criminals whose hands no respectable man should shake—and not even prominent criminals like Tschitcherine and Litvinoff, but tenth raters like Weinstein, Rubenstein, Cohen and others, some of whom are believed to be New York but whom American diplomats will have to recognize if America sends a mission. For these constitute the Anglo-American section of the Foreign Office, and Tschitcherine is too proud to see foreign agents unless his agents abroad are recommended by foreign ministers.

TCHITCHERINE'S PRIDE.
This pride of Tschitcherine and Litvinoff I condoned till a month ago, when I saw their cowardice in the Catholic priests' trial, where Litvinoff assured the German minister, "There won't be any shooting," and Tschitcherine, losing nerve altogether, proffered his abdicated post of foreign minister, referring to Litvinoff every foreign representative soliciting mercy. Although disapproving, both clung to office, and therefore both are accomplices in the murder.

A little while ago I saw six copies of the most extraordinary newspaper ever printed—the "Cheka's Weekly," very secret and of very limited circulation, which was discontinued after the sixth number, containing most horrible admissions, and lists of 100 admittedly innocent hostages shot. Therein Tschitcherine's name figured at the foot of proclamations. Tschitcherine's hands are sticky with blood. I never before had realized the greatness of Lord George's error in inviting the monster from his lair to Genoa; but Lloyd George's establishment of a mission in Moscow was a greater error, for it excited a legitimate American suspicion that England was trying to make big oil and grain deals with the Reds, thus making it difficult to ask the American government to refuse recognition owing to pressure by American manufacturers who feared that England was craftily stalling a march on them.

TREATMENT OF ENVOYS.
It will be said that we send representatives to Turkey, but the Turks are contemptuous in comparison with the Bolsheviks. If the supposed American agent so far swallows his pride as to make a social call on expelled firebrands and escaped jailbirds in the Foreign Office, he is utterly contemptible. American envoys, however, being entertained there as an honor, guest.

Foreign missions have little to do save read Red newspapers filled with the grossest attacks on and denials of their own countries. When the Reds are particularly friendly they invite diplomatists to the Bolshoi theater, to hear the nations they represent ferociously blackguarded by orators, while they sit in the box, objects of derision for the whole audience.

An infinitely greater argument against any relations is the Cheka. They are habitually arresting and frightening almost to insanity one's Russian servants in order to make their employers. The American authorities and every foreign office represented in Moscow are in possession of innumerable and irrefutable affidavits in this connection, which if published would shake the world as it never before was shaken. But their publication would mean certain death to the informants.

I perused scores of such documents now in the hands of the chancelleries, and I was never more horrified, especially at the brutal advantage taken of delicate womanhood and immature youth.

REDS GET ADVANTAGES.
The Soviet gains all the advantages in any arrangement with civilized governments, which get only the disadvantages. Bolshevism being an inflexible system, always taking and never giving. Bolshevik missions abroad are in touch with discredited elements, while foreign missions in Russia never are in touch with genuine Russians.

The members of Bolshevik missions transmit to the Moscow newspapers by code and diplomatic bag the worst things they find from local Communists or in the free foreign press. Foreign correspondents in Russia are confined to the ludicrously partial Bolshevik newspapers or propagandists. They are not allowed to disclose the censor, and can send articles by cable only through the censor.

The Bolsheviks profited by our crazy women, immature youths and weak sentimentalists, just as they profited by the Tolstoyan sentimentalists and universal blood-brotherhood of the Russian bourgeoisie in order to seize power over Russia, and then exterminated these ruthlessly, as in the event of a revolution in England and America they freelance or greed for money helped them to victory.

But Bolshevism is now under these types. I have seen propaganda prepared for these dupes, and I have seen them being duped.

SOME RED DUPES.

Bolshevism is hard as adamant, whereas our social system has many soft streaks upon which, with unerring justice, the Bolsheviks fasten. Our statesmen are worried not only by the pro-Reds, but also by selfish and uninformed business men and cranks.

But Trotsky, war and navy commissar, has no such worries. For it is unthinkable that he would receive a deputation advocating the most elementary measure of freedom. Our parlor Bolsheviks and many business men seem to think our statesmen can solve the Russian difficulty by the magic formula of recognition, without nothing our statesmen can do ever will solve it, while Trotsky could solve it in a stroke of his pen. But he refuses.

The Soviet talks but never acts. We are disgusted whereas the Bolsheviks were united and resolute, and may be again if they survive the present panic and reclose their ranks. Under the stereotyped heading, "The movement toward recognition," the Red's newspapers are running columns daily, filled with accounts of efforts of British labor and American cranks. But foreign newspapers are publishing nothing of a "Soviet movement toward civilized government," because no such movement is allowed in Russia.

STICK TO HITIN WORLD.

We are distracted by many things, principally domestic politics, and even here in Warsaw, within the shadow of the Red peril, people think and know little of Bolshevism, being absorbed in their own politics. But the Bolshevik dictatorship, free of electoral cares, can rivet its whole attention upon one point: how to ruin the world as it has ruined Russia.

Recognition could not do good, but entry would do harm by placing the seal of approval upon a thing unutterably loathsome, and would make even the evolution of Bolshevism more difficult.

There may seem a contradiction between the beginning and the end of the Bolshevik revolution.

Recognition of Bolshevism as a falling house and as an adamant rock, but it is not contradiction. As a politico-economic system Bolshevism is contemptible, but as an efficient organization it is dangerous as a plague of microbes. Western radical writers are curiously enraptured by its energy, but plague microbes also have energy.

Bolshevism is dying, but there is may corrupt Russia and the world.

FAINTS, INJURED BY FALL.

Suffering a fainting spell and falling over a glass case in his home at 304 Twenty-third street, it was reported, William Leimer, aged 38, real estate broker, received cuts on his forehead and over the left eye, for which he was treated at the Emergency hospital. He was taken to the hospital after the accident last evening by H. G. Lejal, 2022 Eleventh avenue.

Put on Poolrooms

The city council, after an argument, gave final passage today to the ordinance raising the age limit of boys in poolrooms from 18 to 21.

Attorney E. F. Talbot, representing the poolroom owners, said the ordinance was unjust and that most places are well conducted.

He cited one big downtown poolroom which has never caused a complaint in the twelve years of its existence.

TO BE PRESENTED BY OAKLAND HIGH

Students Now Rehearsing
Pantomime in Black and White.

Students of Oakland High school, reverting to the form of ancient pantomime, are now preparing and rehearsing for "The Shepherd in the Distance," a play without words, to be presented at the high school auditorium May 4.

The play is all in pantomime; the costumes are all in black and white, and the scenery is all black drapes.

Professional showmen are watching the production with interest, to see the effect of the strictly black and white scenery as matched up with pantomime acting.

Among the leaders in the show are: Fox Rusten, Harold Croter, Russell Tait, Merle Vance, George Thomas, Carl Wickstrom, and Harold Sipman. Many special dances are contemplated for the production. The Oakland High school orchestra will officiate at the music-racks.

Four Injured When Auto Takes Plunge

WALNUT CREEK, May 2.—Blinded by the glaring headlights of another automobile, M. Renatti drove his car off the Concord highway about two miles from Walnut Creek last night. Renatti was badly cut about the face by glass from the windshield. W. Welsch, a passenger with him, was severely cut on the arm and hand, and P. H. Hutchinson, another occupant of the machine, was severely injured internally. W. Baker, fourth man in the machine, was not badly hurt. Baker was able to crawl from under the machine, had a passing auto and with help of his companions, the overturned auto when it plunged down a ravine. All four victims of the accident were taken to Martinez by the county hospital for treatment. The accident whose lights caused the accident did not stop.

Adversary Clears
Oakland Merchant

F. Robb, plaintiff in a suit for $299 damages against Lee Bertillon, Oakland merchant, proved to be a better witness for Bertillon than he was for himself, so judgment was rendered today in favor of the defendant by Judge Harry W. Puleifer.

The suit was to recover for damages to Robb's machine resulting from a collision with Bertillon's automobile at Grand avenue and Webster street last year. Bertillon became excited on the stand and proved a poor witness for himself. He admitted he was coming from Bertillon's left and saw the approach of Bertillon's car, but could not stop his machine until he was in front of Bertillon and the collision resulted.

Spicy Story of Mexico Chief Other Thrillers To Be Told Sunday

He sold Mexican peas to Oakland wholesale houses. Then he organized the Yaqui Indians into an army and became President of Mexico.

Such is the remarkable story of President Alvaro Obregon of Mexico, which appears under the title, "That Pea Merchant O'Brien," in next Sunday's TRIBUNE magazine.

Gerald Beaumont, reformed sporting editor, gives his recipe for writing major league fiction in an article called "A Laugh, A Sob and A Lesson."

"Forty Years in India" is the tale of an American who spent nearly half a century in the land of the Hindus.

"Bitter Intolerance of Males" is discussed by Geraldine, under the heading of "Chivalry."

Why captains enforce the "no whistling" rule on ships, is told by an old tar, under the heading "Parsons, Mermaids and Rats."

Elizabeth Huzzan, wife of a Sheik, discusses the "The Harem As An Ideal Home."

All these and many other features are included in The TRIBUNE Sunday magazine.

CONTEST IN OAKS OVER BERKELEY MAYOR ELECTION

ham himself, in a statement issued during the campaign, declared that he investigated the law thoroughly while serving as city attorney of Berkeley and found that while the larger portion of his residence is situated in Oakland he was given the choice of city with which he wished to become affiliated as a voter.

Fred G. Athearn, well known attorney, also upholds Stringham's stand in the matter and declares that any suit brought against the victorious candidate will be contested.

MUNICIPAL LEAGUE VICTORY COMPLETE

Stringham and the Municipal League headed by him won a complete victory, electing every candidate sponsored by them by safe majorities. Unofficial returns tabulated show Stringham to have a lead of 231 over James K. Fick, assistant recorder of the University of California, and Herbert L. Cogges, Socialist publisher, his opponents for the majority.

In addition to Mrs. Hoyt and Mrs. Moody the six remaining councilmen elected are:

Thomas E. Caldecott, South Berkeley druggist.

M. B. Driver, express company head.

Samuel C. May, assistant professor of public administration, University of California.

Walker Mork, West Berkeley manufacturer.

Elmer E. Nichols, attorney.

Frank W. Wentworth, head of a San Francisco business firm.

Caldecott was high man on the Berkeley Municipal league ticket with Wentworth second.

Of three members of the present city council seeking office under the new city manager form, government but one was victorious. Councilman Bartlett won election to the school board, on which he has served for four years as commissioner of finance and revenue. Councilman George Schmidt was defeated for re-election, while Councilman E. T. Harms lost in the race for city auditor.

PREFERENTIAL VOTING MADE COUNT DIFFICULT

Owing to the provisions of the new preferential voting law which make it necessary for a candidate to have fifty per cent of all votes cast for the office for which he is contending, the counting of second choice votes was necessary in both the auditor and school board contests.

In the auditor night Harms as low man was eliminated and his second choice votes were divided between Bell and Traub with almost equal results. Adelaide Smith and Carrie Gibbs were eliminated in the contest for a second place on the school board and their second choice ballots credited to Councilman Bartlett and Mrs. Whitney, with the former winning. In neither case was the second choice vote large enough to make any material difference in the outcome.

Berkeley voters showed skepticism concerning the preferential voting plan and barely ten per cent of the 13,429 electors who cast their ballots marked second choices. Of the number who did fully 50 per cent marked their ballots incorrectly according to the findings of Miss Emma Hann, city clerk. As a result the second choice vote was negligible, according to city officials.

BALLOTS COUNTED AT STATE ARMORY

Counting of ballots was conducted by Miss Hann and City Attorney Samuel D. Sanderson in the National Guard Armory, owing to the inadequacy of the city hall council chamber to care for the large staff of workers necessary. First choice votes were counted at polling places. Each ballot box as it was turned into the armory was scanned by election workers.

The compilation of second choice votes did not begin until 1 o'clock this morning as a result of the tardiness of election officers in surrendering tally sheets and ballot boxes. Precinct 50, at Walnut and Berryman streets, had failed to make a report when workers completed unofficial tabulating after 3 o'clock this morning. Results were only obtained when Building Inspector Robert Greig, who acted as clerk tally clerk at the armory, left his duties to obtain the duplicate tally sheet from the election tent where it had been posted at the conclusion of the count. Election officers could not be found.

In the election of the Berkeley Municipal League ticket is scored a victory for the sponsors of the city manager plan who carried a charter amendment embodying the new form of government to victory at the polls in January. Frank L. Stringham, Berkeley's new mayor, was campaign director for the city manager forces in the previous election and resigned his leadership in behalf of E. Clarence Holmes to head the election ticket as majority candidate.

TRANS-CONTINENT FLIGHT STARTED

ALTOONA, Pa., May 2.—The T-2 passed over Altoona at 3:45 p. m. eastern standard time.

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., May 2.—(By International News Service.)—The monoplane T-2 hopped off here on its transcontinental flight at 1:37 o'clock this afternoon. It carried Lieutenants John A. MacReady and Oakley G. Kelly.

The flyers expected to be in San Diego, Cal., tomorrow evening. The weather was clear. Clouds were at a 3500-foot altitude. Weather conditions throughout the United States were favorable, according to reports, with the exception of reported rain in Arkansas. A large crowd saw the flyers take off.

The machine, the Fokker type, left the ground near the middle of Curtiss field. As it neared the hangars it was so low that to the spectators it seemed as if the machine could not clear them. The crowd feared a crash and some of the spectators dashed to one side. It was officially announced that the time of the getaway was 1:37 p. m.

Lieutenant Kelly was at the wheel. The machine, after traveling about two-thirds of a mile on the ground, raised and then Kelly shot it into full speed as it soared away into the sky. The machine traveled west by southwest.

The flyers expected to cover the 2800 miles in thirty hours at an average rate of nearly ninety miles an hour. After passing over Staten Island, the big army plane turned its nose toward Pittsburgh. The route planned included Dayton, St. Louis, Woodward, Texas, Tucuman, N. M., and Phoenix, Ariz. The pilots will alternate at the wheel until they reach their destination.

Lieutenant MacReady, however, will have the honor of bringing the plane down at San Diego.

HUGE WELCOME PLANNED

SAN DIEGO, May 2.—(By International News Service.)—Lieutenants Kelly and MacReady are successful in reaching their goal here tomorrow evening, a monster crowd will be on hand at Rockwell field to welcome them.

The weather in Southern California and over Arizona and New Mexico was warm and clear, with a continuance predicted.

The large vote given by Berkeleyans to the firm's increase will mean the inauguration also of a new salary schedule for the police department. Action which will give policemen a proportionate increase is expected to be taken at the city council meeting of the city council. Firemen obtained an increase of 200 monthly, substitute men beginning their activities with the department will now start with $150 per month, with second year men receiving $170 and the rate of increase in proportion according to position. Fire Chief G. Sydney Ross is not included in the salary raise.

Yesterday's election brought out a comparatively light vote, a total of 13,429 ballots being cast out of a registration of 21,757.

MERCHANTS GO ON RECORD FOR WATER DISTRICT

Exchange Members Also Favor Estuary Tube; Richmond Mayor's Views.

Members of the Merchants' Exchange last night went on record with the directors present as being in favor of the formation of a water district in the Eastbay region, and for the construction of a tube under the Oakland estuary. The only opposition vote to the resolution on the water district was voiced by J. C. Downey.

That the people of the Eastbay cities do not appreciate that their water supply is facing exhaustion in ten years, was the fear expressed today by E. J. Garrard, mayor of Richmond, in a statement urging support of the Eastbay water district at the election next Tuesday.

Garrard, a candidate for water district director with former Mayor Samuel C. Irving, of Berkeley, "father of the water district," Grant P. Miller, Alameda county coroner, Al Latham, Alameda city councilman, and H. Frank Cary, of Oakland, based his prediction on engineers' reports and the free admissions of the East Bay Water company itself.

As water was something that man, civilized or savage, could not do without and survive, Garrard argued that it was a necessity that the cities provide it for their people.

At the same time, he warned the people expect a water millennium too quickly. Time would be required, he pointed out, to prepare for the functioning of a new system under municipal control, and therefore to look ahead in preparation for the future and choose a supply on its merits only.

There has been an objection made that the directors will spend money on investigations, it certainly is to be hoped that they will—that they will assume office with minds absolutely unbiased and will be able to look each proposition in the face and choose a supply on its merits only.

GIRL SUICIDE IS IDENTIFIED ANEW BY HER PARENTS

Young Woman's Body Is Claimed After First "Victim" Is Found Alive.

Discovery that the young woman suicide whose body was found Saturday in a marsh at the foot of Thirty-second street was not Mrs. Hulda Wilkins, as had been supposed for three days, led to her belated identification today as Miss Alma Meany, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Meany, 629 Twentieth street.

Miss Meany's parents read in the newspapers Saturday of the finding of the young woman's body, whose description tallied with hers. But since it had been identified as that of Mrs. Hulda Wilkins, 3242 Beach street, by Mrs. Wilkins' landlord and two other persons, it did not occur to them that it might be that of their daughter.

When they read last night, however, that Mrs. Wilkins had been discovered to be alive and that the dead young woman remained unidentified, they hastened to the morgue.

"At this election, the source of supply is not to be considered. This choice of supply is to be left to the recommendation of the directors to be chosen at this election and they will have ample data in the shape of reports and recommendations covering all possible sources of supply."

Today they could assign no motive for her suicide, except the fact that she was of an extremely sensitive disposition and may have become temporarily deranged mentally over some comparatively small trouble.

Tree Surgery Falls to Save Campus Oaks

BERKELEY, May 2.—Despite heroic measures employed by forestry experts of the University of California, the death knell has been sounded for another of the gnarled oaks in the famous Le Conte group on the Berkeley campus.

Because of the fast withering limbs college officials decreed the majestic old tree must go. And so today and yesterday workmen were busy chopping down the once stately tree which formerly rose in glory from the banks of Strawberry Creek and spread its gnarled limbs over one of the most picturesque spots on the college campus.

Tomorrow workmen will ply their axes on a smaller oak situated on the main pathway to California Hall.

According to J. T. Jacks, who has charge of the landscaping of the college campus and who is chief attendant upon the famous oaks, death is claiming many of the campus trees. Some months ago one of the most beautiful of the limbs of the Le Conte oak, was chopped into firewood for campus uses.

With the elimination of the two trees upon which workmen are now engaged, three old oaks will have said their farewell to the college campus this year.

Because of the danger of falling trees Superintendent of grounds E. A. Huggill is making a thorough survey of the campus. On Sunday a tall eucalyptus tree in the grove adjoining the Greek Theater crashed to the ground. Several persons narrowly escaped injury.

Identified, they hastened to the morgue. Today they could assign no motive for her suicide, except the fact that she was of an extremely sensitive disposition and may have become temporarily deranged mentally over some comparatively small trouble.

FUNERAL HELD THURSDAY FOR A. K. HARMON

Pioneer Resident, Donor of
Harmon Gym at U. of C.,
Dies in 69th Year.

Funeral services for A. K. Harmon, 69 years old, founder of Harmon Gymnasium at the University of California, and at one time secretary of The TRIBUNE Publishing Company, who died yesterday, will be held tomorrow from his late residence, 2325 East Fourteenth street, at 11 a. m. Interment will be private.

Harmon, a retired insurance broker, died of heart trouble following an illness of several months. He was a life-long resident of California and is survived by his widow, Mrs. Liza D. Harmon, the following children: A. K. P. Harmon, Jr., of Oakland; Mrs. Charles P. Howard, Walnut Creek; Mrs. John C. Whipple, Decoto; and Edward Harmon of Kingsburg, and a sister, Mrs. George A. Edwards.

Harmon was born in Sacramento on August 3, 1857. He lived there with his parents for several years, and when a "small boy" came to San Francisco with his grandfather. They resided on Rincon Hill in that city. A few years later the family moved to Oakland where Harmon resided until his death.

From 1881 to 1882 he was secretary of The TRIBUNE Publishing Company and later entered the insurance business in San Francisco. He retired from active business several years ago, but until the time of his death always evinced keen interest in state and municipal affairs.

J. D. FREDERICKS, WORLD COURT'S FRIEND, ELECTED

Former District Attorney
Gets Congress Seat of
H. Z. Osborne.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.
WASHINGTON, May 2.—President Harding wasted today that the first actual test of sentiment on his world court proposal was resulting in a 2 to 1 victory for the plan. The President was notified that results of a special election in California yesterday to fill the seat in the house vacated by the death of Representative Osborne showed John D. Fredericks, Republican candidate, running on a platform which included strong endorsement of the court, was leading his nearest opponent by 2 to 1. There were six candidates in the race.

LOS ANGELES, May 2.—Capt. John D. Fredericks, Republican, formerly district attorney of Los Angeles county, once president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and once Republican candidate for Governor of California, was elected to Congress from the Tenth California district at the special election yesterday on the face of returns from 400 incomplete precincts out of 787 in the district available early today.

The world court, proposed by President Harding, was the principal issue in the special election for a successor to the late Captain H. Z. Osborne, who died in office. Captain Fredericks, who said he "did not care to go to Washington unless he was endorsed by the voters of the district as an advocate of the court," received 12,762 votes from the incomplete returns of 400 precincts. H. Z. Osborne, Jr., Republican, son of the man he sought to succeed, and the closest opponent of Captain Fredericks, received 6,775 votes; Miss Joy Galtin, Democrat, 4,657; Alfred L. Bartlett, Republican, 4,037; Frank A. McWhorter, Republican, whose platform was "light wines and beer," 2,655 votes; and John C. Bell, prohibitionist, 243.

The name of Upton Sinclair, Socialist, who failed to qualify because of insufficient signatures to his nominating petition, was written in on a number of ballots.

Returns from 461 out of 853 precincts indicated the re-election at the municipal primaries of Mayor George E. Cyster, who received 24,575 votes from those precincts. His nearest opponent, Bert L. Farmer, former president of the city council, received 6,781 votes. Three other candidates received a total of 4,422 votes.

Indications were that county bond issues for a total of $7,000,000 for public improvements carried. Candidates for councilmen, members of the board of education and members of the board of freeholders also were nominated in Los Angeles city and will be voted on at the city election June 5.

ATHENIAN-NILE CLUB MAY MOVE

Because the organization has outgrown its present quarters at Fourteenth and Franklin streets, the members of the Athenian-Nile Club are considering the possibility of erecting a building of their own or of leasing an entire floor in one of the structures soon to be built in the neighborhood. This was the announcement today of the secretary of the club, Earle D. White.

Several plans are said to be under consideration. One involves the leasing of a floor in the eight-story building which the Alameda Title and Guaranty company proposes to erect at the northeast corner of Fourteenth and Franklin streets.

Another plan is to erect a building of its own. The club has been in its present quarters since 1914, and the members are becoming impatient of the cramped quarters.

CLUB PROTESTS GRADE RAISING

ALAMEDA, May 2.—In a communication received from the Alameda Improvement club last night by the city council opposition was noted regarding the proposed raising of the grade on Webster street, from Eagle avenue to the bridge by the street department.

The club voices the opinion that in view of the fact that a new roadway crossing will be forthcoming at an early date, they think the city should delay any improvement of that section of the Webster-street roadway until a later date.

The attention of the council was called to a number of improvements for the western section of the city which the club feels should have early consideration.

The communication was referred to the city manager with instruction by the council to act in the matter as he saw fit, with the exception of the naval base lease, which the council has already voted upon to place on the ballots at the election on May 8.

SENATORS PLAN FOR CAMPAIGN TO CUT LEGISLATURE

Rominger, Dennett Would Reduce Number of Solons One-Half.

By E. VAN LIER RIBBINK.

TRIBUNE BUREAU, Sacramento, May 2.—Following an acrimonious debate, which took up almost the entire legislative day, the Assembly today defeated the three-quarter jury bill, recently passed by the Senate, which provided for a far-reaching change in the jury system. The bill, which would have empowered juries to return verdicts on criminal cases by only nine jurors out of twelve arriving at a conclusion. Under the proposed change, trials involving the death sentence would have been exempted.

The bill, which proposed to place a constitutional amendment on the ballot was beaten by a vote of 45 to 29. The result is considered a decisive defeat for the Los Angeles Anti-Crime Commission, which has maintained a powerful lobby in the capital in the interest of the measure, and for various district attorneys and others who favored its adoption. The Alameda County Grand Jury also favored the amendment, and recently urged the assembly from the bench to vote for its passage. However, the roll call shows that the only legislators from Alameda county to vote for the measure was Assemblyman E. H. Christian of Hayward. Assemblyman Fred Anderson of Alameda, Jake Carter of Oakland and Chris B. Fox of Berkeley, Richard Lyman of Oakland, Mrs. Anna L. Saylor of Berkeley, Ed J. Smith of Oakland, and Homer R. Spence of Alameda all voting against the proposed change.

L. A. LOSSES ON TEST.
The bill was presented by Floor Leader Henry Carter of Los Angeles, who declared that "the law of unanimous verdict by juries is in the interest of the criminal justice, and not in that of good government, since it is an easy matter for a single juror to get one or three men on a jury to disagree."

From the outset of the debate, it was evident that here was a trial of strength between Los Angeles on the one side and San Francisco and Alameda county on the other. Speaking against the bill, Assemblyman William Hornblower of San Francisco charged that it was being fostered by the Los Angeles Anti-Crime Commission and by the district attorney's office of that city. He said that the bill was a "southern city" for political purposes and to secure more convictions. This statement brought the Los Angeles members to their feet in vociferous protest, and the debate became charged with frequent allusions to the relative merits and demerits of court procedure in the cities of Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Said Assemblyman Carter of Los Angeles: "The court procedure in San Francisco is nothing to boast of. I may recall to your memory the fact that during a sensational trial in that city the women found it necessary to maintain a vigilante committee of their own in the court room, to see that justice was done."

Of course, the entire Assembly understood that Carter was referring to the Arbuckle case. AND CARTER SAT DOWN. Quick as a flash, Hornblower jumped to his feet to take up the gauntlet for San Francisco. He asked whether the member from Los Angeles would yield to a question?

"Certainly," answered Carter, and the House held its breath. "Would you mind telling the Assembly," asked the San Francisco legislator, "just what part of California the defendant came from, in the trial to which you refer?" There was a shout of laughter, and Carter sat down.

In opposing the measure, Assemblyman Hornblower delivered the longest speech of the session in the Assembly. Holding the floor for more than one hour, Hornblower charged that, in his anxiety to obtain convictions, the district

Nine Jury Verdict Bill Goes Down to Defeat

By E. VAN LIER RIBBINK

L. A. LOSSES ON TEST.
The bill was presented by Floor Leader Henry Carter of Los Angeles, who declared that "the law of unanimous verdict by juries is in the interest of the criminal justice, and not in that of good government, since it is an easy matter for a single juror to get one or three men on a jury to disagree."

From the outset of the debate, it was evident that here was a trial of strength between Los Angeles on the one side and San Francisco and Alameda county on the other. Speaking against the bill, Assemblyman William Hornblower of San Francisco charged that it was being fostered by the Los Angeles Anti-Crime Commission and by the district attorney's office of that city. He said that the bill was a "southern city" for political purposes and to secure more convictions. This statement brought the Los Angeles members to their feet in vociferous protest, and the debate became charged with frequent allusions to the relative merits and demerits of court procedure in the cities of Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Said Assemblyman Carter of Los Angeles: "The court procedure in San Francisco is nothing to boast of. I may recall to your memory the fact that during a sensational trial in that city the women found it necessary to maintain a vigilante committee of their own in the court room, to see that justice was done."

"Certainly," answered Carter, and the House held its breath. "Would you mind telling the Assembly," asked the San Francisco legislator, "just what part of California the defendant came from, in the trial to which you refer?" There was a shout of laughter, and Carter sat down.

In opposing the measure, Assemblyman Hornblower delivered the longest speech of the session in the Assembly. Holding the floor for more than one hour, Hornblower charged that, in his anxiety to obtain convictions, the district attorney of Los Angeles habitually employs a special investigator for the purpose of intimidating prospective jurors, and to find out whether they are for or against the death sentence. He also charged that "certain hysterical people from southern California are trying to reach the Legislature."

WOULD NOT REMEDY EVILS.
The speaker said in part: "The miscarriage of justice is due to other causes than the requirements of unanimity, and the present evils would not be remedied by the proposed change."

"Former President Taft says, 'In ninety-five cases out of every hundred, unanimity is reached.' This statement is corroborated by Chief Justice Fuller when he says 'Only 3 per cent of all cases tried result in mistrials by hung juries.' This shows that in 95 per cent of the cases tried a decision is reached, and in only five per cent a decision is not reached. In other words, our opponents argue for a three-fourths vote in order to get a decision in five per cent of the cases and would jeopardize the liberty of their fellow citizens who are accused on perhaps purely circumstantial evidence in order to reduce the small ratio of 95 to 5."

ENGLAND IS CITED.
Various assemblymen from Los Angeles stressed the point that crime is so much on the increase that a change of the centuries-old jury system is needed to meet these conditions. To this Assemblyman Hornblower retorted, and was backed by Assemblyman Albert Rosenbush of San Francisco, that "England requires jury unanimity, and in England jurisprudence is successfully administered. Crime in England is on the decrease and convictions on the increase."

Assemblyman Rosenbush declared that the proposed change was "fundamentally unsound." He declared that in Great Britain, with its unanimous jury system, there was less crime than in the city of Chicago.

Of the 33 lawyers in the Assembly, 20 voted against the bill, eleven for it whilst two were absent.

Ex-Emperor Tips
Hat to All Pigs

DOORN May 2.—Ex-Kaiser Wilhelm tips his hat to every pig he sees.

The former German emperor is a bit superstitious and believes it is good luck to show proper courtesy by lifting his hat to such members of the porcine family as cross his path.

Simultaneously with this salute, Wilhelm touches metal to complete the spell of good luck.

The pig is considered in Germany an object of good luck, though, as far as is known, the ex-kaiser is the only one who goes so far as to salute them.

On important days of the year, for instance, his birthday and New Year's, the Wilhelm likes to have pork for his dinner to secure himself a lucky coming year.

TURLOCK PAIR WED.
TURLOCK, May 2.—Mrs. Helen Muscato became the bride of Arthur Torgenson, both of Turlock. The wedding took place at the home of the bride on East Olive street.

Mrs. Torgenson had been the landowner of several show places during the week prior to her marriage. Torgenson is employed at one of the Turlock garages.

VINEYARD SOLD.
LODI, May 2.—Mrs. Alma Kheer has sold her five-acre vineyard located near Victoria to Henry Adams. Adams has held a lease on the place for several years, and resides there.

TOURISTS' TAX BILL DEFEATED BILL DEFEATED

TRIBUNE BUREAU, Sacramento, May 2.—A bill which intended to create revenue for the State of California by the taxing of the wealth of tourists visiting the State, and journeying here for some time, was defeated in the Assembly. However, notice for reconsideration was given. The measure was introduced by Assemblyman William Scott of San Francisco, and would have imposed a tax of one-half of one per cent on non-California securities held by such tourists. The underlying idea of the bill was that, in case tourists should decide to remain in California, this tax rate would remain the same, and in that case such rate of taxation would compare very favorably, from the wealthy homeseeker's point of view, with the tax rates levied in their home states, thereby serving as an inducement for them to settle in California, and to invest their wealth here. However, the Assembly thought the bill a "little too much 'out of the common,'" though such laws are said to exist in some other states.

Assemblyman Scott declared that there are at present over $2,000,000,000 worth of out-of-state or "foreign" securities, which have been deposited by tourists, who spend the winter in California, in the safe deposits of Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Six More Bills

Gov. Richardson

SACRAMENTO, May 2.—Governor Richardson has vetoed the following bills submitted to him by the State Legislature: Senate Bill No. 593 by Lyon, which affects county boundaries in dispute.

Assembly Bill No. 247 by Hornblower, which would increase the requirements to practice chirography. Assembly Bill No. 137 by Williams, which would declare the Marinopolis big tree road to be part of the seven per cent highway system.

Assembly Bill No. 58 by Pedrotti and Emme, which would amend section 103 of the code of civil procedure relating to justices of the peace.

Assembly Bill No. 57 by Pedrotti and Emme, which would establish police courts in cities of the first and one-half class.

Assembly Bill No. 272 by West, which would require January 24 to be observed in all public schools as Gold Discovery Day.

Oil Royalties Are Proposed for Roads

SACRAMENTO, May 2.—Assemblyman J. J. Prendergast of San Bernardino county asked leave to introduce a bill directing that in future one-half of the royalties on oil received by the State from the Federal government shall be passed to the credit of the State highway fund, instead of all of it going, as at present, to the credit of certain school funds.

There Is No Other Food Like Grape-Nuts

WHILE practically every man, woman and child in the English-speaking world knows Grape-Nuts as a delicious, nourishing and wholesome cereal, and while it is common knowledge that Grape-Nuts with milk or cream is a complete food, many housewives do not know of the appetizing and economical dishes that can be prepared with Grape-Nuts. It lends itself, we believe, to more uses than any other cereal. The convenience and economy of Grape-Nuts, and the flavor, zest and wholesomeness which it imparts to other food, make it invaluable in every home.

Frequently we receive interesting letters from women throughout the country, telling about the attractive dishes they make with Grape-Nuts—delicious puddings, salads, dressings for fowls, etc. No doubt there are thousands of women who are finding varied uses for Grape-Nuts in their home cooking, and even more thousands who will be glad to learn of those varied uses; for while we all cling to old favorite dishes, we also welcome and enjoy a change.

So that is the thought back of our offer of more than $7500.00 in cash for new ways of using Grape-Nuts. To those women who are already using Grape-Nuts in various ways, other than as a breakfast cereal or in the recipes given here, and to those women who would like to try their hand at developing some new way to use Grape-Nuts, we offer to buy at $50.00 each not less than 101 new Grape-Nuts Recipes. We plan to include these new Recipes in a beautifully illustrated cook book.

What Is Grape-Nuts?

Grape-Nuts is a highly nutritious food in the form of crisp, golden granules. It contains the full nutrition of wheat and barley, including vitamin-B and mineral elements required for building sturdy health. These elements are often lacking in the ordinary diet, chiefly through "over-refinement" in the preparation of food.

No other food is so thoroughly baked as Grape-Nuts. More than 20 hours are consumed in the baking process which makes Grape-Nuts easy to digest, and also develops a natural sweetness from the grains themselves.

The form and crispness of Grape-Nuts invite thorough mastication—a decided advantage because this not only provides proper exercise for the teeth, but makes for good digestion. Every housewife in the land should take advantage of this extraordinary opportunity to earn the tidy sum of $50.00 by a little pleasant and educational effort in her own home. Also the fair and equal chance to secure one of the liberal awards to be made by Good Housekeeping Institute.

Moreover, there's the greater knowledge of the value of Grape-Nuts, not only as a delicious breakfast cereal, but in the preparation of a variety of appetizing dishes that add to the health and pleasure of the whole family.

Just before the cream hardens in freezing, add Grape-Nuts as it comes from the package, in the proportion of one-half cup of Grape-Nuts to one quart of ice cream. FOSTER PARENTS TO REAL MOTHER

Eleven-Year-Old Girl Tells Judge Her Preference in Court Battle.

CHICAGO, May 2 (By the Associated Press).—Twelve-year-old Alice Beatrice Morris, on the witness stand today, chose to remain with her foster-mother, Mrs. James Nuttall of Waukegan, Ill., the only mother she ever has known. In her childish voice she rejected her real mother, Mrs. James Morris, whom she had not known until some months ago, and declared she preferred to live with Mrs. Nuttall. Her testimony came shortly after Superior Judge Joseph B. David had declared that humanity and not the law must dictate a decision in the case. At that time little Beatrice probably will be called upon to choose her future home. The little girl was cool and smiling as she faced Judge David from the witness chair.

EXPRESSES HER LOVE.
"I'd rather be with Mr. and Mrs. Nuttall," she said, "referring to her foster-parents when asked with whom she preferred to live."
"But couldn't you learn to love Mrs. Morris? You know she is your real mother, don't you?"
"Yes, the child replied. "I think I could learn to love her, but not like I love mother and daddy."

Judge David then remarked that if he should give the child to the Nuttalls they should not insist on her strict adherence to the church to which they are members. He also warned that she must be given physician's care whenever needed. To both of these suggestions the Nuttalls gave assurance.

Judge David intimated he might award the child to her foster-parents, the Nuttalls, in his interpretation of them and the real mother, Mrs. Morris. The latter admitted she was satisfied with the care given the child by the Nuttalls and requested that she be allowed to visit the child at any time.

MOTHER RETELLS STORY.
Counsel for both sides objected to Judge David's attitude. Counsel for Mrs. Morris asserted the court had no right to deprive a mother of her flesh and blood.

Opposing counsel contended that the court had no right to take the child from her foster-parents by whom she was legally adopted, unless they were shown to be unfit guardians.

Mrs. Morris, the mother, took the witness stand and retold the story of her youthful romance with Clayton Klinger, Beatrice's father, and of her subsequent marriage to James Morris.

Beatrice was born in Sterling, Ill., in 1911, and counsel for her mother contended she was removed by her mother from the Illinois Children's Home, from which she was adopted by the Nuttalls.

ABALONE LEAGUE

DI AVC DACCDAI
I LNU DNUDULL

FOR ART'S SAKE

Famous Writers and Artists
Forsake Pen, Brush for Bats and Mitts.

By FRANCES MONTGOMERY.

One of the most unusual baseball leagues ever organized has just wound up a strenuous season of competitive games as was ever played. The "Abalone" League has come out of its shell in a body, and it is disclosed for the first time that authors and artists of fame shine in wielding the bat as well as the pen, and in swinging the ball as well as the paint.

Down at Carmel-by-the-Sea, the Colony of the Arts, the usual attack of spring fever has taken on the form of baseball insanity, and no one is immune, not even the wives and women writers. In fact, they have been stricken in a far from variceloid manner, for the women have a team of their own as well as "bating in" on the team of the male celebrities.

Charles Van Riper, one of Carmel's successful story writers, rose early in the spring and said, "Let there be ball," and with one accord the slaves of the pen and pencil quit the muse and came out into the open. Sunday saw the grand championship game of the season played between the "Reds" and the "Bearcats," the "Bushmen" and "Pirates" having been routed earlier in the season. Just above the white sand of Carmel beach, and overlooking the rugged rocks where cling the inspiration for their title, the Abalone league played their diamond. Here with the ocean breezes and the wild cheers of the entire colony in their ears, the "Reds" and "Bearcats" went to bat for the league championship.

FAMOUS PLAYERS.

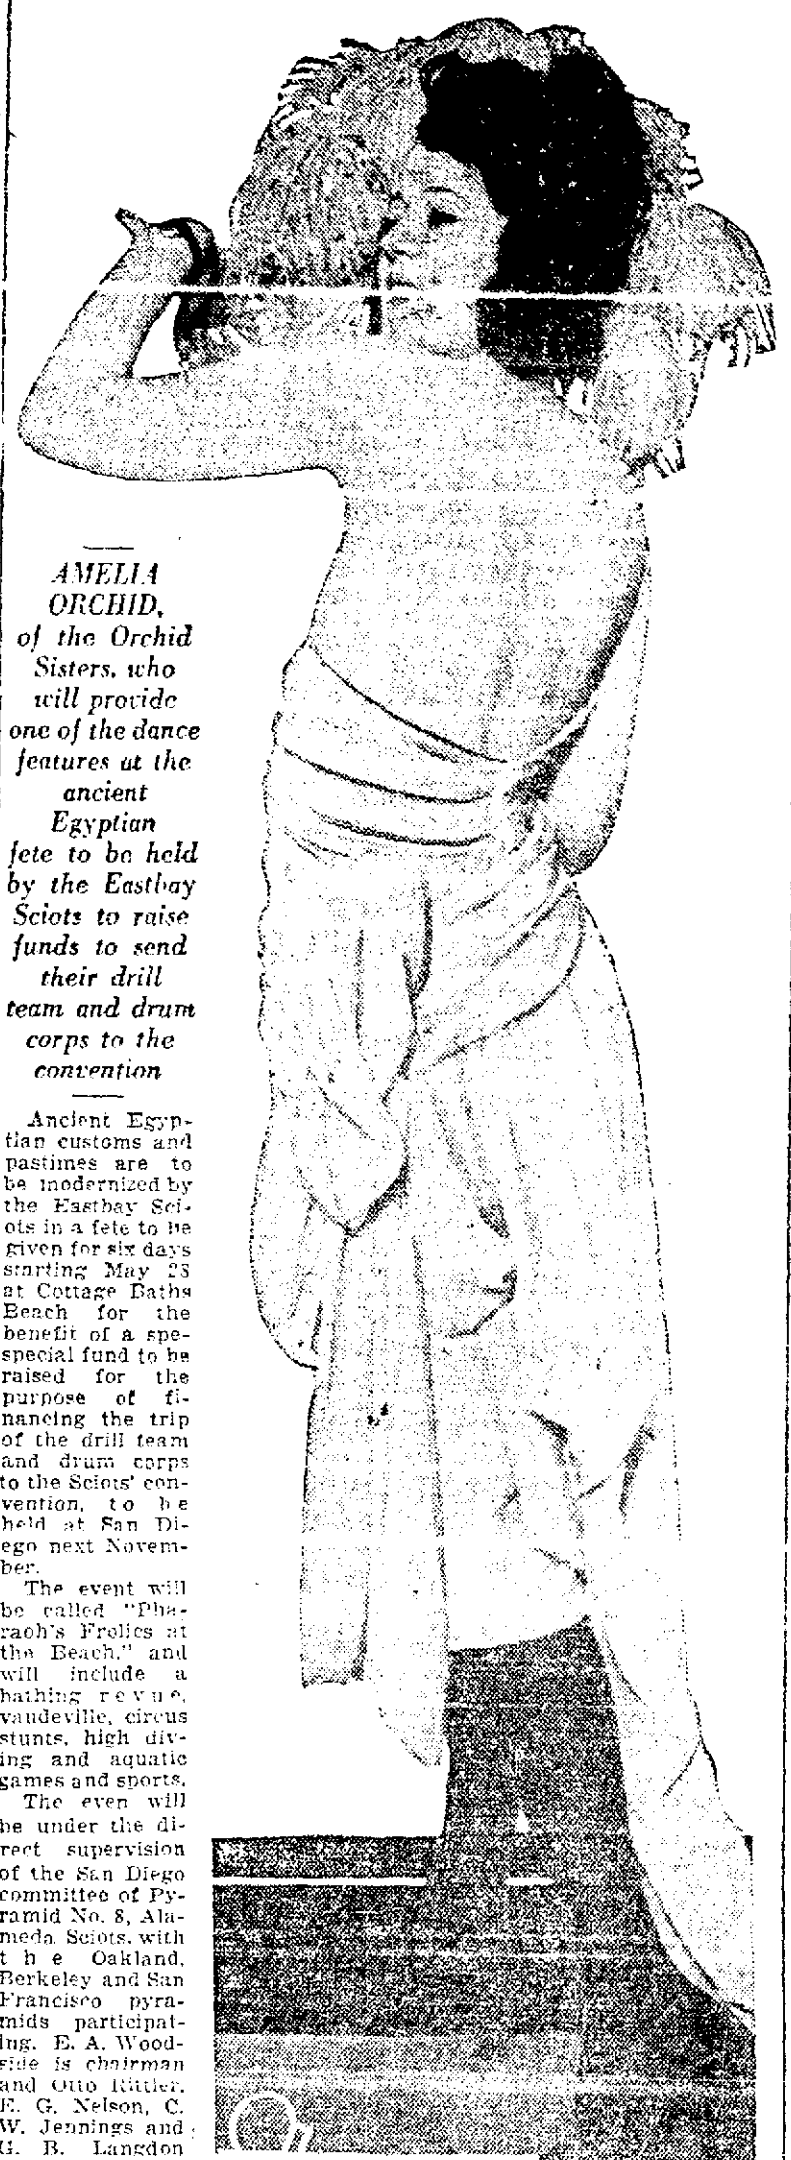

Among those who played were: Charles Van Riper and Helen Van Riper, his wife, who has the highest batting average of any woman in the league; John Northern Hilliard, novelist and director of plays, who is the league first base player; Elizabeth Wilson, wife of Henry Wilson, author of "Merton of the Movies" (Mrs. Wilson plays left field); Hobart Glassel and Ruth Custer, who represent Carmel's own industry with their hand-weaving establishments; Brynion Ford, manager of Del Monte hotel; Herbert Heron, Carmel poet and actor; Bonnie Gottfried, daughter of Adele Porter Bechtold, Carmel writer; Elliot Boko, who designs fashions when she is not making a first base; Lewis Jesselyn, artist, and his petite French wife, to whom the Abalone league introduced baseball so successfully that she has become their expert score keeper. Then there is Talbert Jesselyn, short story writer, who umpired the final battle wearing a huge calla lily, for which it is said he had made previous arrangements to be placed in his folded hands if worse came to worst.

PARADES AND SUCH.

Never has any organized effort brought closer together this community of varied opinion and personal differences were forgot as balls were swung and bats played, for there was a parade of the enthusiastic fans, and the artists' hand spread flat tones and intensity of feeling with a new medium, while the entertainment on the sidelines featured as many items as the Ziegfeld Follies.

A complete broadcasting outfit from a point of vantage was kept busy. King George's message that the "Empire" was with him was announced as Frank Godwin went to bat. President Harding's regrets that he could not be present at the game were greeted with cheers, and a message from the president of France was read with the well-known Legion accent.

The "Reds" were feasted at night with a great banquet, where the teams and 60 fans celebrated. Complimenting the "Reds" the decorations were red flowers, red candles burned, speeches were read by everybody, tradesmen, artists and authors alike, and we have it that

MOVABLE DECK
FOR COLISEUM
IS PROPOSEDExposition Hall in Chicago
May Be Enlarged With a
Changeable Floor.

CHICAGO, May 2.—(By Associated Press.)—The Coliseum, scene of the last five Republican national conventions, and of other conventions, expositions, boxing and wrestling matches, six-day bicycle races and other events, will be enlarged by one-half if exhibitors who lease it annually approve the necessary expenditure.

Charles R. Hall, president of the Coliseum Company, has completed plans for a removable second story which may be erected or dismantled in 12 hours' time, and which will add 50,000 square feet to the present 100,000 square feet of floor space.

The plans, suggested by the annual automobile show and "Down Your Own Home" exhibitors, are now being submitted to their regular exhibitors. The proposed improvement involves the expenditure of $15,000.

The plan calls for a unique electric crane and a sectional steel floor with supporting columns giving seventeen feet head room between the first and second floors, all to be housed in a pit beneath the present main floor when not in use.

"The actual operation of the plan will appear like the work of some stage magician," Hall said. "For example, a six-day bicycle race closes at midnight on a Saturday. The next week's exhibitor needs the extra floor. The race crowd files out at 12:30 a. m. and workmen appear and begin lifting off section of the main floor."

"A workman turns a switch and the electric crane, which has been stored in the girders at one end of the building, comes to life. The engineer takes his seat and the crane begins lifting out the steel columns lying in the pit under the main floor."

"It places the columns upright in sections in the floor plates, hauls up the steel floor plates to their places atop the columns and on a level with the present balcony."

"As each plate falls into place workmen see that the girders are properly adjusted. Each girder and each plate are of similar design and will fit in any part of the structure. Hour by hour the crane lifts the pillars and flooring, traveling along a track in the girders the full length of the building, until at noon on Sunday the second floor is in place and the Coliseum is a finished two-story building."

"Then the crane begins laying back the main floor, and when all sections are down it is parked in its place among the girders and out of sight. At 12:30 p. m. the Coliseum is ready for exhibitors to move in."

"At the end of the week the crane is brought forth again and proceeds to take down the floor and columns and store them away in the pit."

CROOK-CATCHER

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2.—(By International News Service.)—Crook catching by radio will aid greatly in reducing crime, William J. Burns, head of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice, who is on an inspection trip, declared today.

He announced that a new bureau of identification and information in the department will be able, six months after request from any police chief to have any known crook's name, description and identifying characteristics "on the air" for radio plants to pick up all over the country.

"When a crook realizes that the department can so quickly broadcast information he is going to think twice before committing crime," Burns said.

Though admitting he had his eye on sugar planters, Burns declined to discuss the matter.

Land Deal Ends In Fraud Suit

SAN JOSE, May 2.—Alleging fraudulent representations by the defendants, Thomas De Rosa today filed suit against Frank R. and Mary Machado Silva, asking $25,000 damages. According to the complaint, the defendants told De Rosa that the land they were to convey to him would produce a $10,000 crop of fruit in 1919. This was false, De Rosa alleges. Attorney William R. Biaggi represents the plaintiff in the action.

CAR SHORTAGE POSSIBLE FOR STATE IN FALL

Grape Movement May Be Hurt, Says Examiner of State Rail Commission.

"Unless unforeseen conditions arise the movement of all fruit and other products requiring refrigeration from California points to Eastern destinations should be handled without delay until September, when there may be a car shortage, particularly when the grape movement commences." This is the gist of a statement issued today by the State Railroad Commission based on the report made by Examiner W. J. Hanford of the service department, announcing that a total of 40,000 refrigerator cars are already provided for the movement of fruit and kindred products in this state. The railroad commission was appealed to by the fruit growers of the state who anticipated a heavier production and crop movement than last year and Hanford was instructed to seek co-operation with the shippers. In his report to the commission he says that he has met with the unanimous co-operation of the shippers.

According to Hanford, the available car supply will be as follows:

"Pacific Fruit Express, 28,000 cars.
"Western Pacific Refrigerator Line, 2000 cars. (Will be controlled by P. F. E.)
"Santa Fe Refrigerator Dispatch, 14,000 cars.
"S. F. R. D. (New cars under construction which should be delivered in time for current season), 5000 cars.
"The refrigerator car supply is at present in good volume, there being approximately 5000 or 6000 more cars available for service on the lines of California carriers than existed at this same period of last year, and the movement westward is daily accumulating more of this character of equipment which will be available to care for the seasonal business when it increases in volume.

"Conditions in Roseville, which is the assembling and icing station for the Golden Gate route, are materially better than they were last year, new side tracks having been added and some enlargements having been made to the icing plant at each point. In addition, the Southern Pacific is at present constructing some 12 miles of double track over the Sierra Nevada mountains which will be completed and placed in service in the month of July; also double tracking is in progress in Nevada and this double tracking, particularly as regards that in progress over the mountains—the most difficult operating point on the entire route—will materially facilitate the handling of through trains on ice, fruit and similar perishable commodities.

MOTIVE POWER BETTER.

"The condition of motive power, both on western and eastern lines, shows more serviceable locomotives as of April 1, 1923, than at any time since the commencement of records by the car service division of the American Railway Association, which began in August, 1920. Locomotives in need of repair are decreasing materially, and the clearing up of the large accumulation of locomotive repairs brought about by the shipyard strike has advanced to a point where normal conditions may be said to exist with some catching up on the average condition as existing during the spring months of each year.

"Notwithstanding the very heavy traffic movement now existing—approximately 20 per cent more revenue freight moving during the month of March, 1923, as against the corresponding month of 1922, and with approximately the same percentage as against March, 1921—the general movement of freight is being promptly handled and without delay.

"As regards cars for the movement of deciduous fruit to local canneries, the majority of this movement is handled by the Southern Pacific Company, who handled in 1922 approximately 60,000 tons from points of origin to local canneries, and such handling was accomplished without serious complaint. This year the Southern Pacific Company anticipates and is preparing for the handling of somewhat more than this tonnage, thus arranging to provide stock cars and other vehicles for the movement of this crop; also for the furnishing of special train service whenever the necessities justify and it is anticipated that this local movement will also be satisfactorily cared for.

"Clean possessions make good impressions.

CURTAIN CALLS

Wood's Soanies

TOWARD the end of her life, Sarah Bernhard projected a book on the art of acting. Her opening chapter was on "Pronunciation." As discovered after her death it was the form of notes and was printed in Le Figaro and later translated by the Boston Transcript.

Incidentally while on the subject she gives in addition to advice to young players, some thumb nail impressions of several notables on the international stage which are as interesting as anything the Divine Sarah had to say on the subject of the theater always was.

"Pronunciation is a primary requisite of speech. . . . To be sure of his pronunciation it is necessary for the actor to learn his lines out loud, stressing them heavily. He may become certain of his enunciation only by being absolutely confident of his memory. In this respect is often nothing more than the outward sign of forgetfulness."

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

"Our New Minister," by Denman Thompson, is playing a return engagement at the Macdonough theater tonight.

"I advise young actors to go as often as possible to see and hear Lucien Guity. They will then take note of what a deep sense of decorum this admirable comedian possesses. They will understand that the tempo which he adopts almost invariably prepared for a phrase which is to be a touzoute to a mental picture. And upon this phrase he bestows unerringly the correct tonal accent, stressing the word which most of all casts a light for the spectator. He is the greatest comedian of our age."

"Henry Irving suffered from defective articulation and pronunciation but his pantomime was well considered; he had a great love for the beautiful; his costumes were always historically accurate; he was about the best of documentation with a passionate interest, and the settings of all the pieces he mounted revealed admirable care, good taste and a gratifying exactitude. . . . Irving performed for the first time a service similar to that of Antoine in our own country. He was the shining example of a great actor."

"I cannot say enough about Constant Coquelin who was really a very great comedian. By the variety of his comic shape a whole phrase with unbelievable aptness; his laugh was unique and the most sombre spirits gave way before his revelry. He was above all a great clown."

"The great difficulty of enunciation comes in knowing how to give each word its proper value. In this respect intelligence alone may guide the actor. Unfortunately there is no known method of making an intelligent being out of an unintelligent one."

Broun Chooses Eleven Most Competent Performances

Not to be outdone by his fellow writers who have been engaged with the selection of the season's ten best plays, Broun has taken it upon himself to point out the eleven most notable performances of the year. Like picking the all-American team, he is going to meet with considerable discussion but he is well aware of that.

"On the whole it seems to us that first place ought to go to Jane Cowell. She gave a spirited and beautiful performance of an exceedingly difficult play. . . . After Miss Cowell the performance which we remember best is that of John Barrymore in 'Hamlet.' It fell short of greatness in its lack of pathetic quality. . . . Ethel Barrymore is number three on our team because of 'Rose Bernd.'"

FORTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Charles Wyndham appeared in "The Great Disappointment" at the Union Square theater in New York last night.

"Alice Brady's Mamie in 'Zander the Great' appeals to us as the most nearly perfect piece of acting this year. . . . We liked Halidee Wright's Elizabeth in 'Will Shakespeare.' . . . More than any of the others Helen Menken in 'Seventh Heaven' contributed to the season's success."

field's Shylock we liked because it humanized a figure greatly in danger of becoming a stained glass image. . . . The fourth player whom we could single out of the Shakespearean plays is Basil Sydney as Mercurio. . . . Laurette Taylor's Mrs. Kantos seemed to us perfect in everything except small details of accent. . . . Here, now, are nine players, and we nominate also Glen Hunter as Merton and Harry Beresford in 'The Old Soak.'"

EXITS AND ENTRANCES

Montague Glass is gone from California to New York to prepare the sixth of the Peacock and Perlmutter series. In August when the new show is presented the tenth anniversary of the series will be declared. At least one company has been playing the Jewish partners somewhere else since.

Herbert Harris, managing proprietor of the Century, has treated his stage door to a coat of paint. The color is bright green. Now why do you suppose he picked that of all colors?

Erma Hubbell Ward of Sells-Floto circus recently established an endurance record for consecutive aerial revolutions. Miss Ward revolved 201 times. If any one doubts the difficulty of doing this a flying swing should be erected in the back yard and an exhibition given.

Word comes from Vienna that there is a possibility that Nijinski, the Russian ballet star, may recover his sanity. He has been suffering from a hallucination that he is a horse. His wife recently moved him to a hospital in Paris.

Rose Coghlan is back on the stage again. At 74 she is waging a war against destitution by appearing in a vaudeville sketch written by her nephew Charles. It is called "The Shattered Idol."

CHINA OFFERING

ADD GOOD FIELD

Oakland merchants and manufacturers would have verbal advertisements running daily in the living, itinerant newspapers of the Chinese hinterland if the ambition of N. A. Davis, secretary of the Foreign Trade Club of San Francisco, were realized.

In the backward provinces of China, as Davis explained, the newspapers walk about on two feet and deliver their messages orally. They are personified by readers, who travel from one village to another, recounting the news of the world for the delectation of the benighted multitudes.

If Davis had his way, according to his talk before members of the Oakland Advertising Club yesterday, the gems of journalistic knowledge dripping from the tongue of the primitive Chinese press would be interspersed with glowing accounts of the shoes, lanterns, implements and food products manufactured in Oakland.

Davis advanced this suggestion as just one of the many ways in which advertising must be adapted to foreign conditions in order to extend American trade abroad and avoid a perplexing problem of over-production at home.

Waited in Vain For Wife to Get Divorce

"I waited two or three years in the hope that she would get a divorce and save me the money," declared W. H. Fischer to Superior Judge H. S. Koford yesterday in testifying in his suit for divorce from Pearl E. Fischer.

Fischer, who was granted a decree, said that after their marriage in San Jose September 5, 1915, he took his wife to Bisbee, Arizona. He said he became discontented with the surroundings and left him on February 8, 1914.

Workman Burned By Live Steam

ALAMEDA, May 2.—Daniero Massano, 317 Centennial avenue, who is employed at the Pacific Coast Box Works, was severely burned on his face and arms by escaping steam last night when a live steam engine became disjoined.

Massano was given first aid treatment at the Emergency hospital by Dr. Ralph Sanders. Later he was removed to his home.

RANCHER FACES ACCIDENT CHARGE

FRESNO, May 2.—Phillip Folmer, rancher of the Biola district, was arrested yesterday on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, after he was alleged to have warned rain contract solicitors of his ranch at the point of a shotgun.

He was later released on $1000 bail. Folmer, according to Sheriff W. F. Jones, declared he had already signed his acreage. The complaining witness, Albin Johnson, Fresno rancher, declared that when they attempted to find a Japanese grower who holds a lease on forty acres in the same tract, Folmer secured a shotgun and warned them off the place.

Official reports from the Sun-Maid Raisin Growers' league indicated that 75.5 per cent of the required $5 per acre in crop contracts had been secured up to this afternoon.

Yellow Pansies to Blossom in Plaza

A fine collection of yellow pansies is being planted in the big circular plaza, and will give a yellowish tinge to the gardens until they are taken out and succeeded by the floral designs contemplated in honor of the American Legion. The pansies are expected to last a month or two. They are being transplanted in full bloom from the city's hothouses.

Queens began it

The use of palm and olive oils to cleanse and beautify the skin began with the queens and princesses of ancient Egypt.

Now the modern women, who are the queens of today, find them just as valuable combined in the smooth, creamy, lotion-like lather of Palmolive. This perfected modern luxury costs only 10c a cake.

Palm and olive oils—nothing else—give nature's green color to Palmolive Soap.

Volume and efficiency produce 25-cent quality for 10c.

SHRINE CHANTERS WIN APPROVAL IN FIRST CONCERT

Singers of Aahmes Temple
Give Good Program; Keynote Is "Friendship."

A good attendance and hearty applause greeted the vocal efforts of the Aahmes Chanters last night when they gave their first concert in the Oakland Civic Auditorium theater. The purpose of the concert was expressed in the code of the Aahmes Chanters as set forth by John C. Hughes, president, and Robert Lloyd, director of the organization.

In this connection Hughes expressed himself as follows in a brief statement printed at the head of the concert program: "The Aahmes Chanters endeavor to spread the gospel of Friendship through song, to gladden the hearts of the sorrowful, sick and needy. In doing so, we have accomplished our mission."

Along this line, Lloyd said, also through the medium of the concert program: "There are three great fundamentals which largely govern humanity. These are Love, Work and Friendship. If one be greater than the rest, that one is Friendship."

"FRIENDSHIP" KEYNOTE.
The keynote of the program was struck in the first number, entitled "Friendship." In addition to the Chanters' numbers there were several other vocal contributions to the evening's entertainment, and a variety of instrumental selections.

HELEN WILLS TO TRAIN FOR LIFE CAREER IN ART

Tennis Champion to Study at
U. C. and Then Complete
Course in East.

BERKELEY, May 2.—From racquet to palette and brush—such will be the step taken by Helen Wills, Berkeley's young tennis champion, when she enters the University of California next semester.

Miss Wills is completing studies at the Anna Head school, and after winning, for the third successive year, the championship of the bay region's private schools for her classmates the young star has laid aside her racquet temporarily to "dig" for final exes.

That she plans a career as an artist was disclosed today by Miss Wills, who considers tennis merely a happy avocation. Cited as a designer and painter, she plans to spend two years at the University of California and then complete her education for an artistic career at eastern schools.

As a farewell "present" to her school Miss Wills last Saturday again won the tennis championship of the fashionable private schools. As a result the Anna Head school now claims as its own a handsome silver trophy.

Miss Wills is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Wills, 1200 Shattuck avenue.

NEWS and GOSSIP FROM STAFF WRITERS AT HOME AND ABROAD

By WILLIAM J. HUSKE,
International News Service Staff
CLEVELAND, May 2.—A wave of public sentiment against the dancing craze was sweeping Cleveland in the wake of the recent contests, in which records were hung up only to be turned into "scraps of paper" before the rising of another sun. Objections reaching Mayor Kohler to the continuance of these exhibitions were based not only upon the harmful effect upon the participants physically, but to the actual happenings on the dance floor.

Some of the girl participants, it was asserted, practically changed their entire costumes during the attempts to establish records. Others held close to their partners and were practically carried over the floor, while massed groups of dancers to enable them to keep on after the mythical championship. Two of the "champions for a day" were able to cash in on their temporary fame. Miss Helen Mayer, first Cleveland claimant, received about $500 as her share of the receipts, when she made her record, and theatrical engagements added perhaps $1,000 more.

Miss Madeline Gottschick, whose record was eclipsed within a few hours of being made, was reported to have signed a contract to appear at two theaters for one week, receiving, according to her press agent, a stipend of $2,000. Inasmuch as both of these girls were poor, the financial returns proved very acceptable.

Cleveland's hopes of securing the Republican national convention were admittedly growing less, when local boosters learned that Chairman John T. Adams of the Republican national committee, had expressed the view that some other city should be host of the Republican brethren in 1924. In view of the probable renomination of President Harding, an Ohioan, boosters here also agreed that the President himself was inclined to view the plan of meeting in Cleveland with disfavor. Word was brought here that while Ohio was a great state, it really had its full share of Republican honors when one of its sons was named for the Presidency, and it was feared that other states, perhaps more doubtful in their political alignment than Ohio, should get the convention. While Republican convention boosters were having cold water thrown on their hopes, Democrats, for the same reason, were feeling brighter. It was being pointed out to party leaders that it would be of immense tactical advantage to bring the leaders of the Democratic party to President Harding's own state and thereby the chances of carrying Ohio a year from November would be greatly enhanced.

Cleveland, largest city in Ohio and fifth in population among American municipalities, next January goes under a new form of government, including a city council of twenty-five members, elected by proportional representation, and a city manager. The charter changes voted by the people in November, 1921, have been declared valid by the State Supreme Court. Election by proportional representation is a new thing so far as voters here are concerned, and proponents of the charter changes, as well as the County Board of Elections, have established schools to tell the voter how to make his vote count. Chief Clerk A. J. Hirsutus, of the Board of Elections, has announced that the counting of the ballots will be a herculean task and has asked the mayor for the use of the public hall—the largest auditorium in the United States—for the army of clerks who will be employed in making the count.

The city will have no mayor after next January, a city manager chosen by the council, performing executive and administrative functions. Mayor Fred Kohler, while denying he has any aspirations beyond completion of his present term, is generally believed to harbor managerial ambitions. The fact that during his first year in office he turned an operating deficit of approximately $1,000,000 into a surplus of $250,000 will be used by his friends as a strong argument that he should be entrusted with the new job.

The city manager, subject to council approval, will choose all department heads.

POISON CHARGE
AGAINST DOCTOR'S WIFE DISMISSED

Charges made by Mrs. Mildred R. Moore, 2625 Telegraph avenue, Berkeley, that her step-mother, Mrs. Eleanor B. Ring, wife of Dr. H. J. Ring, was insane and had attempted to poison her, were dismissed by Superior Judge Samuels today for lack of evidence.

A conference was held by Dr. John A. Larsen and District Attorney Decoto this afternoon concerning the possibility of future action being taken by the authorities. Mrs. Moore testified at a hearing held by Judge Samuels at the emergency hospital today that on while Mrs. Ring was living as a guest in her house, she had made an attempt to poison her life by putting poison in her coffee.

POISON IS REVEALED.
Dr. John A. Larsen, of the Berkeley Police Department, testified that an analysis of the contents of the coffee cup had shown the presence of a powerful poison. His testimony was ruled out, however, when it was disclosed that he had not made the analysis himself, and that the alleged poison had passed through several hands in the course of the investigation. Mrs. Moore, it was added, had turned it over to a drug clerk, who gave it to a chemistry student at the University of California. The latter analyzed it, and then turned it over to Larsen.

SALES IS ORDERED.
Judge Samuels, with this evidence lacking there was no indication of insanity on the part of Mrs. Moore, and ordered her released. The charges were sworn to by Mrs. Moore two days ago, and Mrs. Ring had been in custody at the emergency hospital since yesterday morning.

Among the witnesses who gave testimony at the hearing today, were Dr. M. J. Clark and Dr. Jacob S. Green.

Dr. Ring, husband of the accused woman, and her three sons, Jesse B. Arden and Olaf Ring, were present at the hearing, but were not called upon to testify. Dr. Ring is a Sonoma county physician.

Bank Robbers Given
San Quentin Terms

WOODLAND, May 2.—Hamilton Merritt and William Crum, two Los Angeles youths who on April 20, held up the Bank of Commerce and escaped with $2500, and who were later captured in Enos canyon by Deputy Sheriff Lee R. Sinkey and Assistant Sheriff Glenn Atterbury and Adolph Silversmith, yesterday pleaded guilty to first degree robbery before Superior Judge W. A. Anderson and were sentenced to terms of from one year each to life in San Quentin prison. Neither man had anything to say other than that they wanted "to have it over with." Sheriff J. W. Monroe and Lee Sinkey left with the two bandits last night for San Quentin prison. Merritt was born in Detroit, Michigan, while Crum came from Huenehue, Oregon. Both of them have been in California about a year. All of the money stolen by them was recovered by the officers who arrested them as they were driving to their escape through a mountain pass.

HOUSEWIVES TO PROTEST IN MASS ON SUGAR PRICE

Secret Service Head Also Asked to Help Fight Against Refiners.

Investigation into the price of sugar centered in the bay region today with the arrival of William J. Burns, director of the bureau of investigation of the Department of Justice, and the calling of a mass meeting by the San Francisco Housewives league for Friday afternoon.

According to Burns, his visit here is merely incidental to a general tour of inspection, but he said that uppermost at this moment are the two problems of sugar and "reds" and, while here, he will devote his attention to the local phases of both situations.

Meanwhile the housewives are preparing for a thorough airing of the conditions underlying the heavy sugar price increase, which is today resting unchanged at a level 85 cents above the normal of April 11. At the mass meeting three angles of the situation will be presented—the housewives, the retailers and the refiners and wholesalers.

Mrs. Ida Finney "Mackrille," prominent clubwoman, will tell of the work of the housewives' organizations in the East, where "consumers' strikes" already are exerting a powerful effect in curbing speculation and lessening demand, according to the housewives.

Frank B. Connolly, secretary of the Retail Grocers' association, will outline the troubles of the grocers and present the basic facts of the sugar situation as seen by members of the association. L. R. Castiglia, of the California-Hawaiian sugar refinery, will present the case of the refiners and wholesalers. The meeting will be held at the California club, 1750 Clay street, San Francisco.

Putah Canyon Traci
Leased For Resort

WOODLAND, May 2.—A 3000-acre ranch in Putah Canyon district, belonging to Mrs. A. D. Hamilton, of Dixon, has been leased for a period of ten years by S. A. and W. D. Sowash, brothers of Woodland, to be converted into a pleasure resort for bay and valley visitors. Putah canyon is the home of the red bud, famous wild flower. The Sowashes plan to expend $30,000 all told in constructing a dance hall, swimming pool and electrically lighting the entire ranch acreage.

Thursday evening the Camp Fire Girls and the women of Crockett will give a program in Community Auditorium, consisting of vocal and instrumental numbers. Sunday evening's program at the auditorium will consist largely of community singing, instrumental music, quartette number and a cantata, "The Risen King."

A band concert at the auditorium has been arranged for Friday night and on Saturday evening a radio concert will be given there. An unusual feature of all the musical programs will be native songs by persons of the many various nationalities represented in Crockett under Park in order to provide more room for the dancers and accommodate the larger crowd.

BELETED APPEAL REACHES COURT

SIX YEARS OF COURT action followed when Emily Bellante, of 1521 Kings avenue, Berkeley, and her husband Joseph Bellante, appeared before Superior Judge T. W. Harris, each seeking a divorce.

Mrs. Bellante alleges that her husband frequently cursed her and that he beat her on numerous occasions. She claimed that, as the result of one of these beatings, she lost her child.

Bellante filed a cross-complaint in which she alleges that his wife frequently neglected him and that, on several occasions, she beat and killed him. She further alleges that she became intoxicated and, on one occasion, was taken to a hospital.

The divorce complaint was filed in 1917 but the case has never been called in court until today because, throughout the intervening six years, mutual efforts have been made by friends to reconcile the combative parties.

MEXICAN RECOGNITION.

All signs point to an early recognition of Mexico. It is true they have pointed in that direction before only to have new complications and delays arise. This time there are new and impressive indications that the two republics officially will resume relations.

Two representatives from each country are to meet in Mexico City to "exchange impressions and report them to their respective countries." The announcement of Secretary Hughes is conservative. It does not promise nor does it predict. It does, however, disclose the fact that an important step toward recognition of Mexico by the United States is to be taken.

The American commissioners are men of distinction, Charles B. Warren and Charles Barton Payne. Mr. Warren won attention and diplomatic laurels when he eliminated the Lansing-Ishii agreement and Mr. Payne is the lawyer who served as Chairman of the Shipping Board, Director General of the Railroads, and Secretary of the Interior. He is now Chairman of the American Red Cross. Mr. Warren is a Republican and Mr. Payne a Democrat and in this absence of political aspect there is another promise of a genuine desire for results.

Mexico, it is likely, will be asked to show that it is strong enough to protect American lives and holdings and to withdraw the threats of confiscation which Carranza had written into the Mexican constitution. In the character and sense of President Obregon are reasons to believe an agreement will be reached. American friendship and American capital will mean much to its southern neighbor and President Obregon has shown that he is appreciative of this fact.

It is time the two countries got together. The effects would be noticeable not only in the two countries but in all of the American republics.

KNEE-BREECHES AN ISSUE?

The task of Ambassador Harvey becomes increasingly difficult. At a time when he had about outlived the disgrace of having worn knee-breeches the royal wedding in England demanded that he attend and wear, once more, the abbreviated costume.

There is always a ready crowd to strike the critical note whenever the name of Mr. Harvey is mentioned. It was only the other day that the Legislature of the State of Massachusetts considered a resolution demanding that Harvey resign. Fortunately, there were enough members of the body to recognize that this was an unwarranted assumption of authority. No state has the right to sit in judgment upon an ambassador; nor can it exercise the prerogatives of Federal government.

Mr. Harvey has made some unfortunate speeches. Upon a number of occasions he has been rumored that he was to resign or be recalled but he has held to his job and, from all accounts, is popular and respected in England. The latest outburst seems to have its start for no more reason than the presence of the American ambassador in knee breeches at the wedding of the Duke of York.

The professional Harvey baiters can always fall back on the knee breeches.

CHILD WELFARE BILL.

The conscientious parent, mothers' club leader, or other, who seeks information designed to aid in the moral and mental education of children discovers that this is a field of research comparatively untouched. What has been done in the physical training of youth, in hygiene, eugenics, the correction of defects, etc., has resulted in a marked improvement in the health and vigor of the child. No similar investigative work has been done toward establishing the fundamentals for the training of the character, imagination, reason or the character building, will power, initiative, etc.

There are those who believe that research conducted by capable men and which would seek to determine how best to direct the child's energies and would look to the child's covery of the causes of delinquency would repay the state many thousand fold. It is an old saying and a true one that millions are spent for prevention.

The theme is a big one. It deals in futures and the making of successful lives. As a means to give it impetus, to provide the information upon which parents may act, it has been proposed that the University of California establish a child welfare research station and that the state make an appropriation of $50,000. A bill to that effect has been introduced in the Assembly, has been passed upon favorably by the University Committee, and is now in the hands of the Ways and Means Committee. As it seeks an appropriation in a year of economy it is doubtful if the bill will pass and, if it does, it is doubtful if it will be signed.

The large number of those who have endorsed the bill are hoping that its appeal as a step toward the prevention of delinquency will convince the Legislature and Governor that a comparatively small sum spent in this direction will do much to justify the cuts which have been made in appropriations designed to cure for those delinquents who are, in part at least, the products of unintelligent training.

OAKLAND MUSIC WEEK.

There are many reasons for agreeing with the man who first called music the most democratic of arts. It knows no levels save those of appreciation and picks its favorites from the streets as often as from the drawing rooms. At a concert there is no dividing line save that which separates those who come to hear from those who come to be seen.

If in the generation of elders today there are many whose souls do not respond to the voice of music the fault, in most cases, is in their training and early opportunities. There was a time when good music was regarded as a luxury or a fad. Strong men were disposed to belittle it and when the daughter of a family was none too strong it was decided to "let her go in for the piano."

Yet, even those who profess to have no ear for melody, respond to it consciously or unconsciously almost every day of their lives. A phonograph playing in front of a music store is never without an audience. Newsboy, shopper, merchant, idler, they listen to Caruso singing from a spinning disc. If all the music were to stop for a spell the void would be painfully apparent. If it were to stop for a longer spell men might fight for its return. It is as necessary as salt.

Oakland is to have a Music Week beginning Sunday. During the seven days the community will demonstrate the place music holds in its life. To many will come with the force of revelation, the discovery that all of the school children know and most of them appreciate, good music. But this is to be more than an exhibition and demonstration; it will be a gift and a sermon. Music will be taken into the hospitals and institutions, it will give of its comfort to hundreds who are kept indoors and it will speak to assembled crowds at the auditorium and elsewhere. During the seven days there will be 150 free programs, five at the auditorium.

In this Music Week the radio will aid as it has never helped before, for all of the best concerts will be carried over the air to the hospitals and charitable institutions. In the general acceptance of music there is little recognition of the efforts, study and time given to the public by the artists. Indeed, the musician is reconciled to finding his reward in creative and missionary accomplishment. In Music Week there is an evidence of this, and opportunity for a general expression of appreciation.

Because of the invention of portable schoolhouses, students of the Hawthorne district attended school the day following the fire which destroyed the old building. Question: Are the children glad there are such things as portable schools?

It was once held as evidence that those who danced the tarentella were mad. Now men ask where they may buy tickets for the marathon

In many of the cities of Europe the Queen of the May had to stay indoors to escape being hit with a brick.

A suspicion is gaining ground that the reason the Turks sit in on so many conferences is that they like the food.

MEXICO ON THE SCREEN.

It will interest Americans to know that the Government of Brazil has just barred the exhibition of an American film in Rio de Janeiro because it invited "propaganda against a friendly power." The average "movie" fan who saw the same film would be amazed at this decision. For screen purposes the Mexican is the "enemy" and the "villain." Without intending it, our screen directors have implanted in the average American mind a picture of Mexico which neither school lessons nor the Geographic Magazine can overcome. Mexico is the second Latin-American power. Her sister Republics in Central and South America feel that she has been and is being badly treated by the United States. They resent our policy of nonrecognition, and when we follow that by exporting to them films ridiculing and degrading a people of 16,000,000 which looks back upon a great cultural tradition, which includes some of the greatest art of the New World which has produced and is producing great wealth, they call it vicious Yankee propaganda, and believe that we are trying to stir them up against their brothers in blood. If some of our film directors could in the future of Latin America they would learn certain things of advantage to themselves and to American prestige abroad.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The LANTERN

With a Wade and Butcher?
Sir: I now learn from a very interesting source that Captain Fitzurse lost the three fingers of his right hand while trying to shove himself during a marathon quadrille.
This incident appears on faded yellow pages in a diary recently discovered among the belongings of my grandfather's old butler.
Unfortunately, it makes no mention of his fair partner other than the mid-lap was due to her displacing the mirror when dancing past the bass-viol.
The accident probably took place in Richmond, as my grandfather was not given to travel.
Jack de la Fox.

This interests very much, as the Captain has just told us that he holds the long-distance non-stop dance record for Africa, having danced from high noon of June 27 until noon of July 3, 1921, in the Sudan, in competition with five Moslem dervishes, all of whom perished.

Sonnet: The Ultimate Word.
What new word may be spoken of the sun?
Of the sky—or sea—or of the snow?
What phrase can new describe a river's flow?
The miracle of spring? Ah, all was done.
Ere Ruth had gleaned, Penelope had spun
Ere Homer's blind eyes watched the season go,
Or Chaucer sauntered forth in Maytime's glow
That from his books maketh him to goon.

Aye, in the primal garden of the world,
He who made beauty walked at eve,
Surveying sky and sea and leafy wood,
The flowers His hands had wrought
And mountains hurled
Amid the clouds. 'Tis writ—with artist pride—
He looked upon His work and called it good.
BEN NOFT JOHNSON.

We have just been looking at a picture of "The wedding cake for the Duke of York and his bride." The cake at the base is 7 1/2 feet in circumference, and 10 feet in height. A young couple who could eat their way through that deserve to be King and Queen.

To One Long Gone.
Out of the half-forgotten past,
Mistily screened and sweetly vague,
Unwrapped in filmy veils, come you,
Hazy and happy memory.

Keenly I search the outlines dim
Hopefully seeking to mark your face;
Naught is detail but a languid dream,
Naught is defined but gently blurred.

I cannot remember your features at all,
I do not think they were fair to see,
But one thing clings to my eager brain,
Your voice, golden sweet.

Twenty-five low like a singing flute,
Clear with a tinkling, vibrant note,
Fleeting with impassioned emotion
Once, charmingly gentle and soft again.

Some day perhaps you will wander home,
Your features changed—but what of that?
I cannot remember your features at all—
Just speak! and I'll know it is you once more.

That guy "Optimist" who mentions tons men he would like to be on a desert island, is just a fellow to work. Just imagine you and Hey Brown putting up a pup tent. The only manual labor I ever caught either of you doing was lifting a glass.

Here is a list that has some sense:
1. The guy you always see with a large catch of fish in a sports department will make up the grand total. The banks in this state are so persuaded of the soundness of the young farmers that they have lent $225,000 to the various clubs to finance the purchase of livestock. The loans will be repaid at the end of the season.—Merced Sun.

A live county Chamber of Commerce will help Vallejo and Vallejo should enter heart and soul into the movement. Primarily the movement will help to develop the entire county, but in so doing it will help every city within the confines of the county.—Vallejo Chronicle.

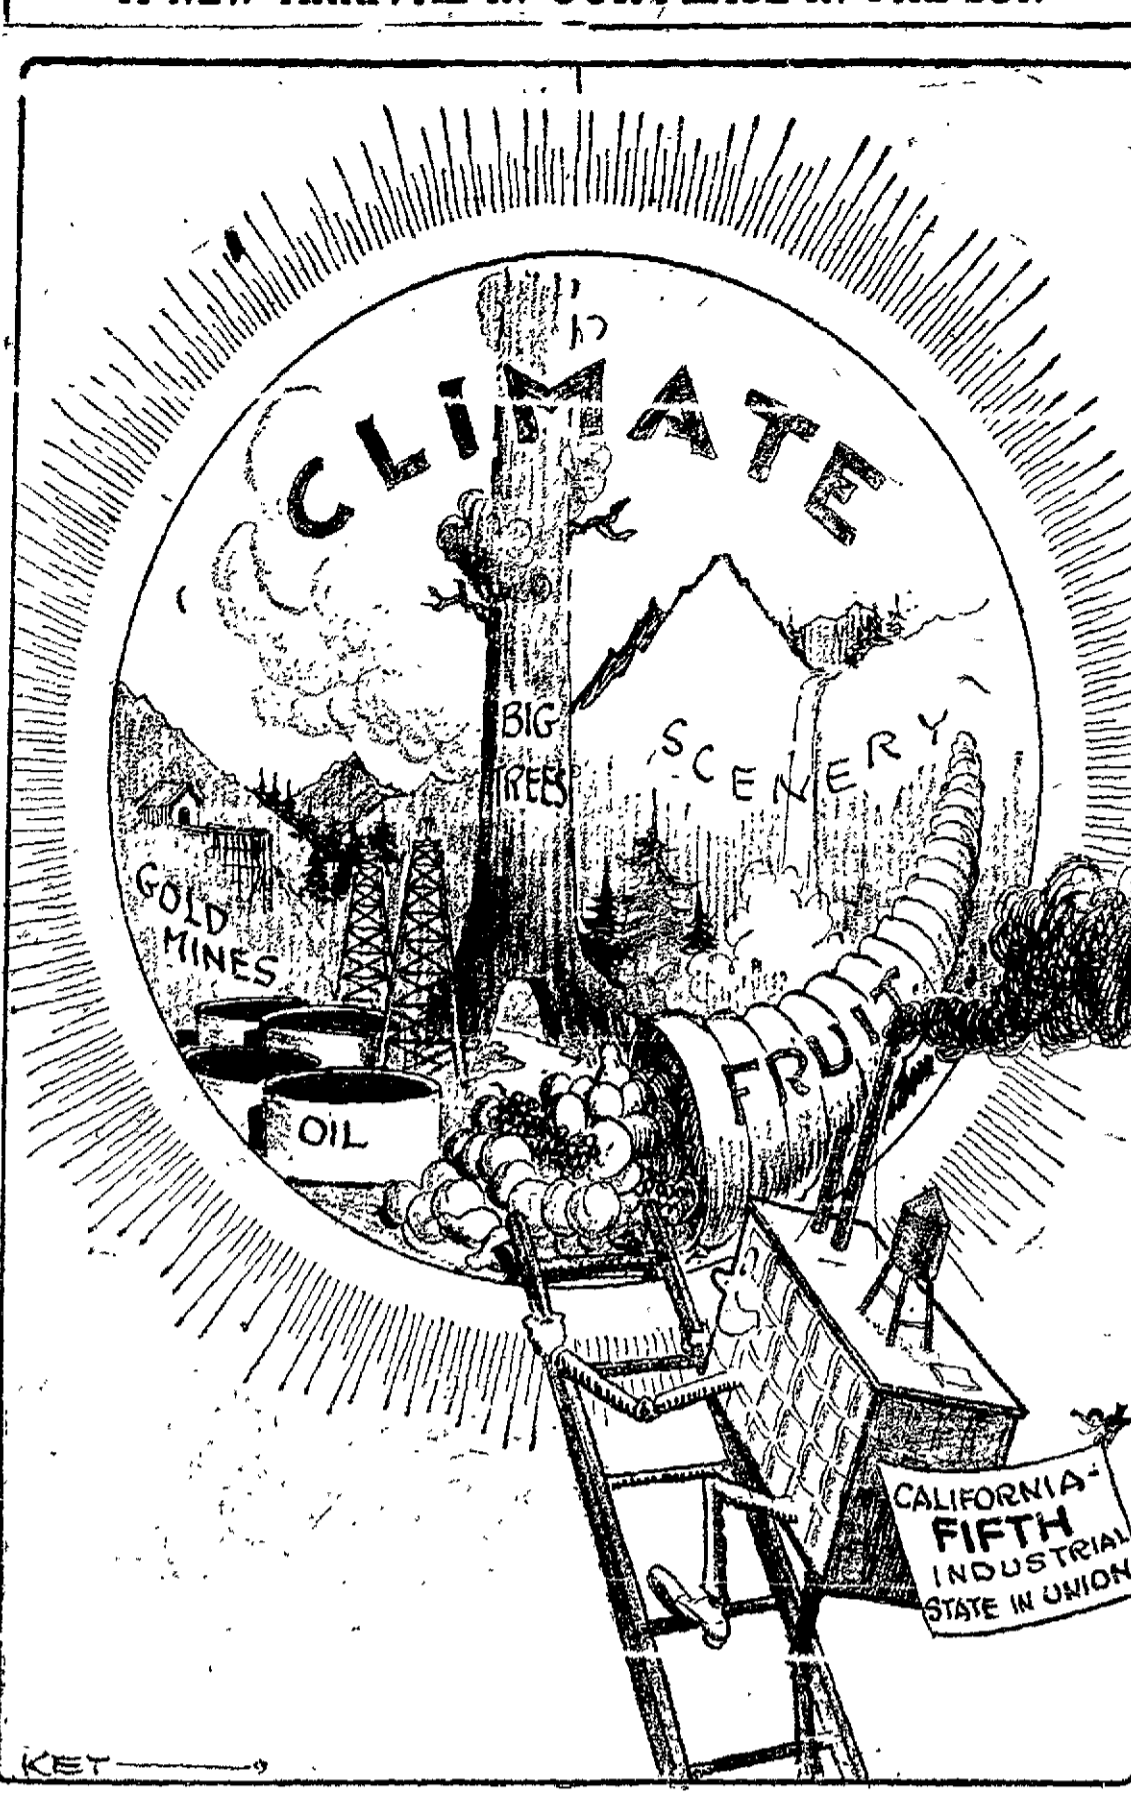

The Bi-County Christian Endeavor Union of Stanislaus and Merced counties will be held in Modesto from May 4 to 6. If funds can be raised to pay his expenses, Dr. W. P. White of Oakland, Ore., will be one of the speakers at the convention, and may remain over to fill the pulpit on one of the Modesto churches.—Modesto Journal.

A NEW ARRIVAL IN OUR PLACE IN THE SUN

EXCERPTS from the NATIONAL PRESS

New Orleans Item. Miss Loeb, of the New York World, objects to newspaper writers of her sex being termed "newspaper women." She says the term is low, coarse, vulgar. Miss Loeb prefers "woman writer" or "woman journalist." In this she differs from virtually all other editorial workers of American newspapers. As the cub reporter matriculates he is willing to be called "a Journalist," but after a month or so he refers to himself as a "newspaper man" and wants the rest of the world to classify him that way. The sensible New York lady will have to search far in the realm of words to find a more expressive phrase to take the place of "newspaper woman," that will not be, at the same time, as awkward, pretentious, and stilted as the two terms she suggests.

New York Sun: As discussion in its meetings weeks ago had indicated that it would be the majority committee on licensing and traffic had reported in favor of reducing the number of taxicabs in New York. There are now about 15,000 cabs, a number that is constantly growing. The committee suggests an ordinance limiting the licenses to 12,000.

Chicago Tribune: Judge Walker of the speeders' court gives his fellow citizens a glimpse into political interference with justice which would justify further inquiry. He cites the case of a park commissioner who ordered park policemen to turn over arrest slips to a policeman and then "pulled the slips" from this officer so the cases were not prosecuted. Judge Walker reports that in one week six hundred cases against automobile speeders have been brought in for a month.

Deseret News: To think a thought clearly and to express it plainly is one of the greatest things in the world. To the shrine of a great poet, the world has always built a well beaten path of reverence, for the poet is he who says with rare good grace what all of us have thought and felt all the while, but which no one of us has been able to express. The poet has ever been, and always will be, the interpreter of the heart, the teacher of the people. He is the symbol of his nation, the mouthpiece of his race.

St. Louis Post-Dispatch: In spite of all the efforts to indicate safety rules, the record of 14,000 deaths due to automobile accidents in 1922 is discouraging. This was a death rate of 12.9 per 100,000 population. In six American cities with an aggregate population of over 18,000,000 the automobile death rate was 12 per cent higher in 1922 than in 1921.

SPIRIT of the STATE PRESS

It is estimated that nearly three-quarters of a million dollars in farm products will be added to the food crop of a single state this year through the educational farm work done in the children's farm clubs. Dairy products and livestock alone will pass the half-million mark, while canned goods and clothing made under the supervision of the state extension department will make up the grand total. The banks in this state are so persuaded of the soundness of the young farmers that they have lent $225,000 to the various clubs to finance the purchase of livestock. The loans will be repaid at the end of the season.—Merced Sun.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

A THOUGHT FOR THIS DAY.

Let me go forward, step by step,
And mile by mile.
Teach me to greet the morning with a smile
And the calm rest of night and gratitude.
Let me have courage when the wind blows rude,
Let me be gracious when my skies are fair
And unresentful in my hour of care.

If these there be who need my words of cheer,
Let me not play the churl when they are near.
Let me not be deluded by the pride,
Let me see clearly where my duty lies.
And when at last my course of life is run,
Let me not be ashamed of what I've done.

San Francisco and L. A.

Whatever may happen about the raisin drive the people of the San Joaquin valley will be appreciative of those in San Francisco and Los Angeles who have come to the help of the Sun Maid Growers with subscriptions of stock. The amount subscribed has been of material help.

This help will also, to be sure, be of material value to the business interests of both the metropolises of California. To that extent, these subscriptions have been a part of an enlightened selfishness. For that very reason we have been so glad to hear of it.

They are an indication that the business interests of northern and southern California are discovering a unity of interest with the San Joaquin valley. And they are discovering that this unity of interest is based on something more than a buying and selling basis, or on an investment opportunity expressed in bankers' terms of interest. There are two true centers, as arteries of California activity, depend directly upon the future as well as the present of the agricultural resources depend for their development on the communal spirit of the population of this interior basin. More and more the keen sighted business men of the Bay and of Los Angeles recognize this. We are grateful that what we have and what we are, is to be shared, for mutual benefit.—Fresno Republican.

A House Divided.
A northerner was hunting in the South and one afternoon he got drenched through. A southern farmer took him in, gave him a suit of clothes to wear while his own clothes dried and insisted that he stay all night. The northerner, of course, was profoundly touched by this display of southern hospitality.

Just after supper, as the contented northerner, full of good food, was going upstairs to his bedroom for his pipe, he met the lady of the house coming down with a huge book under her arm. As he had her husband's clothes on, she mistook him for her husband.

"The book down on his head with a bang!"
"What?" she hissed. "That's what you got for asking him to stay all night!"—Savannah News.

RACES ON HIGHWAY

To the Editor of The Tribune:
As a frequent visitor to Oakland and Berkeley, I have seen many of the motorcycle races held on the Alvarado road, which are a menace to all automobilists using that section. I come to Oakland every fortnight in my car and return early the following week.

Last Friday more than twenty motorcyclists were holding a race on the Alvarado road, and do to the fact that I had a little engine trouble, I was unable to see the race. I came to Oakland and saw the race, and saw a crowd of motorcyclists and they practically blocked the street. They were talking of an accident a few minutes before when one of their number was killed. He, so their conversation intimated, had just finished a trial run, previous to starting in the regular races, and just as he finished struck and was struck by an automobile and the young man said, was killed. These young men were condemning one of their number for not getting the license tax off the motorcycle before the automobilist had an opportunity to take the number. I know nothing of the accident other than it is extremely dangerous for a score of motorcyclists to race late at night on a public thoroughfare, and I am sure that the license tax off the motorcycle permits for such races? At least five of these young men were entered in the race which they said they had often held on this stretch of road.

SAFETY FIRST.

TOWN MEETINGS

To the Editor of The Tribune:
I was much pleased with your remarks regarding the old New England town meetings. It would be very beneficial to Oakland at the present time to hold similar meetings in different sections of the city for the discussion of such questions as taxation, bond issues for tube, schools and waterfront development, etc.

The tax problem today is the most aggravating. The large amount of exempt property and bonds, the quantities of money upon which there is no tax paid make the burden very heavy upon the homeowner.

The system of assessing is very unjust, being entirely on permit instead of just valuation. A percentage of 1914 was very different from the permit to build in 1923. Today it is costing 75 per cent more to build than in 1916, consequently a person building a home or buying one built at the present time is assessed 75 per cent higher than the person living in a home built under normal conditions.

To the Editor of The Tribune

On Tuesday, April 17, the voters of the city of Oakland were called upon to vote for an amendment to sections 91, 94 1/2 and 97 of the charter of the city of Oakland. The question of increase of pay for the fire and police departments. As we all know, this amendment passed by a good majority of votes. The question in the minds of many voters and taxpayers and before last election was, is this raise justified? I was a spectator to Hawthorne school fire today—arrived when entire roof was a sheet of flames and from my view direct in front of the main entrance, the tallant avenue I could plainly see flames on top floor working their way up the stairs taking their last step step they took, not speaking of the intense heat and the dense smoke. I remember a large fire in Chicago a number of years ago when at a similar fire the roof fell upon the brave fire ladders and several lost their lives. My thoughts went back to that fire and I must say that at every day that was in the building of Hawthorne school during the burning of the roof took their lives in their hands. I have been a taxpayer in Oakland over twenty-five years. I am glad the firemen got their just raise.

25,000 OAKLAND PEOPLE AND FIRMS SUBSCRIBE TO COMMUNITY CHEST

$400,000 TO BE REPORTED BY WEEK END

Campaign For Contributions Pushed by Committee in Effort to Secure Quota Set For the Entire Drive

Subscriptions to the Community Chest fund today amounted to $385,674, it was announced at the regular daily luncheon of chest fund workers. The subscriptions for twenty-four hours ending at noon were placed at $27,149.

Oakland is well on toward the $400,000 mark in the Community Chest campaign contributions, according to announcement made today. Every indication points to the fact that this sum will be reported before the end of the week. A check of the contributions up till Monday shows that 25,000 individuals and establishments have made contributions. This announcement was a source of general satisfaction among the chest workers yesterday. It points to the fact that in the past but approximately 7500 have represented those who have taken care of the burden of financing the Oakland charitable and welfare work. It is claimed that if this number of subscribers had been maintained upon the work of all charities for the period of a year that the goal of $486,396 would have already been attained.

"We find that many of the subscribers have given to the Community Chest exactly what they have in the past given to one charity and this circumstance is reflected by our failure to attain the goal at an earlier period," explained Lynn Mowat, campaign director, yesterday. "By way of comparison it may be stated that the total number of subscribers in Denver was but 20,000. It is therefore apparent that the Oakland people as individuals are willing to subscribe in large numbers."

CLEAN UP WORK
 Thorough reorganization of the larger phases of the campaign has been completed and several hundred specific assignments of clean up jobs accepted by picked workers from the service clubs of the city, who have promised to follow them through until subscription is secured if it "takes until Christmas."

Not content with having gone over 200 per cent of their quota, two of the residential district divisions are intensifying their efforts in order that not a prospect in their district may escape. All of the other divisional organizations are giving their territories a careful combing over, signing up everyone they can across who has not yet subscribed.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Fred Uhler, ten groups of young women workers have organized to respond upon an hour's notice when asked to assist in soliciting factories and mercantile establishments whose employees have not yet been covered. A group of volunteer women are today phoning hundreds who last year contributed to participating agencies but whose Community Chest contributions are not yet in. A complete follow-up system has been inaugurated to push through the work in the many larger establishments where employee solicitation has not yet been completed.

MANY DIGGING DEEPER
 Voluntary increases in subscriptions coming into campaign headquarters in encouraging numbers, according to Campaign Chairman J. Cal. Ewing, who says: "Oaklanders are beginning to realize that our city must take care of its poor and unfortunate and are 'digging deeper' in order that the Community Chest campaign will not fail."

"It's going to take hard plugging," continued Mr. Ewing, "to reach our goal. Every possible contributor who has not been seen must feel it his duty to do his share, and many of those who have already given must sacrifice in order that we may be free from drives and tag days for a year and welfare work of the city is going forward. I know Oakland well enough to be sure that its people will not fail in these final days of this appeal."

The following lists of contributions turned in by workers and complete subscriptions was announced yesterday:
 $750—C. L. Best Tractor Company, Oakland Title Insurance & Guaranty Co., H. G. Prince Company.

May Day Fetes Will Be Spread Over Period of Three Weeks.

Celebration of May Day in the Oakland schools and playgrounds is to be spread over a period of three weeks this year, according to a schedule announced today by Jay B. Nass, superintendent of the city recreation department, and by the board of playground directors, headed by Harold C. Austin.

Several of the schools and playgrounds have already held their May Day festivities during the past three days. These include the Dewey, Campbell, Clawson, McClellan, Tompkins, Harrison and Alameda playgrounds, and the University High school and the Golden Gate school and playground today presented programs in observance of the occasion.

The May Day festivities of the Clawson school were held at the Poplar street playground yesterday under the supervision of Miss Helen Manuel, playground director. Four hundred children took part. Edith Gilman, the May Queen, was crowned by four-year-old Glen Alarie. Twenty "sunbeams," dressed in yellow and led by Esther Olsen, followed by twenty frost and snow fairies, depicted the arrival of spring. The pageant ended with the winding of the May pole with many-colored streamers, by fifteen girls.

The children of the other schools in the city will participate in similar exercises on the following dates:
 Sequoia, May 4, 11 a. m.; Longfellow, May 4, 1:15 p. m.; Mazzaniti, May 5, 2:30 p. m.; Jefferson, May 7, 2:15 p. m.; Bushrod playground, Washington school, and Claremont school, May 9, 2:30 p. m.; Piedmont avenue school, May 10, 2 p. m.; Laker, May 11, 2 p. m.; de Fremery playground, and the Tompkins and Cole schools, May 12, 2:30 p. m.; Bella Vista playground, and the Haythorne, Franklin, Bella Vista and Park boulevard schools, May 12, 2:45 p. m.; Moswood playground, and the Garfield, Emerson, Durant and Fruitvale schools, May 12, 2:30 p. m.; New Century playground and Prescott school, May 13, 2:30 p. m.; Elmhurst, May 22, 4:30 p. m.; Persha, May 16, 1 p. m.

BOND USE IS DENIED BY HUNTER

Affidavit Shows Collateral Intact in Safety Deposit Vault After 1919 Campaign Had Been Brought to End

Answering charges of manipulating the school liberty bond purchases in 1919 to pay campaign expenses, Superintendent Fred M. Hunter today produced affidavits signed in August, 1919, showing that the bonds were intact in a safe-deposit vault.

The charges against Hunter, as introduced before the board of education Monday night by Director George Ormsby, intimated as follows:

That Hunter was unable to use school funds to pay for the 1919 school bond campaign. That Hunter thereupon used the Liberty Bonds collected among the schools for that purpose, and reimbursed the schools out of school moneys, thus manipulating the children's bonds and indirectly causing an expenditure of school department funds.

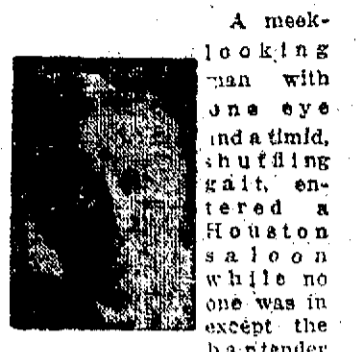

Hunter today produced the following affidavits from the school files, which he says he will introduce at the trial, to be held at 2 p. m. Thursday:

"Fred M. Hunter, Superintendent of Schools of the City of Oakland, State of California; Vernon P. Irvin, Accountant for the Board of Education of said City; and T. A. Crellin, Vice President of the Central Savings Bank of said City, each being duly sworn, each depose and say:

"That on the twenty-ninth day of August, 1919, in the presence of each other, and in the Safe Deposit Department of the Central Savings Bank of Oakland, situated in the northeast corner of Fourteenth street and Broadway, Oakland, California, they took from the safe deposit vault of said Central Savings bank, Safe Deposit Box Number H-2, leased to the Board of Education of the City of Oakland, opened the same, examined the contents thereof, and found therein in each and every article listed on

NEW GEMS by O. HENRY Treasure-Trove of Humor from Newly Discovered Writings

A NARROW ESCAPE.

A meek-looking man with one eye and a timid, shuffling gait, entered a Houston saloon while no one was in except the bartender.

"Excuse me, sir, but would you permit me to stop behind the bar for just a moment. You can keep your eye on me. There is something there I wanted to look at."

The bartender was not busy, and humored him through curiosity.

The meek-looking man stepped around and towards the shelf back of the bar. "Would you kindly remove that wine bottle and those glasses for a moment?"

The bartender did so, and disclosed a little plowed streak on the shelf and a small hole bored for quite a distance into the wall. "Thanks, that's all," said the meek man, as he went around to the front again. He leaned thoughtfully on the bar and said: "I shot that hole in there just nine years ago. I come in feeling pretty thirsty and had no money. The bartender refused me a drink and I commenced firing. That ball went through his ear and five bottles of champagne before it stopped. I then yelled quite loudly, and two men broke their arms trying to get out the door, and the bartender trembled so when he mixed a drink for me you would have thought he was putting up a milk shake for a girl who wanted to catch a street car."

"Yes?" said the bartender. "Yes, sir, I am feeling a little out of sorts today, and

It always makes me real cross and impatient when I get that way. A little gin and bitters always helps me. It was six times, I think, that I fired, the time I was telling you about. Straight whisky would do if the gin is out."

"Wait a moment," said the meek man. "Come to think of it, my doctor ordered me not to drink anything for six weeks. But you had a narrow escape all the same. I think I shall go down to the next drug store and fall in a fit on the sidewalk. That's good for some peppermint and aromatic spirits of ammonia, anyhow."

A FORCED MARCH.

Sacramento Short Line, Napa Valley and Other Short Lines File Reports.

The tide of battle between the New York stock market, which has been waged since Monday, turned strongly in favor of the bulls early this afternoon when many of the shares which had borne the brunt of the recent selling were quoted 2 points above yesterday's final figures.

The foods, oil, equipment, steel, railroad, motor and rubbers were foremost in the rise. The apparent exhaustion of the selling pressure, together with a decline in call money rates and rumors that substantial interests were accumulating stocks at current prices, were factors in the rally.

The opening of the market was buoyant, with a rise of 1/2 point in the index. The rally was not without its ups and downs, but the general movement was upward. The steel and oil stocks were particularly strong, with steel advancing 1/2 point and oil 1/4 point. The railroad stocks were also strong, with the Great Northern advancing 1/2 point and the Santa Fe 1/4 point. The motor and rubber stocks were also strong, with the Goodyear advancing 1/2 point and the Firestone 1/4 point.

The net operating revenue for the year 1922 was $405,830, giving a net operating revenue of $1,700,000 for 1923. Wonderful Harvest Is Ahead, Says State Crop Report

IMPORTANT FACT
VEGETABLES AND OIL DEMAND
EXPANDING FAST

Industry Facing the Greatest Year in Its History; Land Is Losing Ground.

BY CORRESPONDENT PRESS
SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE
NEW YORK, May 2.—Producers and manufacturers of vegetable fats and oils are prepared for the greatest year they have ever known. The increase in consumption of vegetable fats in the United States in the past few years has been such that it has become one of the great businesses of the country, and has enhanced the value of vegetable oils at least 50 per cent.

"The people of the United States will purchase $150,000,000 worth of vegetable fats this year," the head of a large soap company says. "This is $150 for every man, woman and child in the United States. The total consumption of fats, both animal and vegetable, probably will be between $75 and $80 for each inhabitant."

LAND LOSING GROUND.
"The consumption of vegetable fats now has reached 75 per cent of the land consumption and this does not include the vegetable oils used in cooking and salads, which swell the total vegetable fat consumption by $100,000,000 every year. The total consumption of edible fats and oils in the United States for the present year will be about $400,000,000, of which amount over $200,000,000 will be used for cooking. Whereas, a year ago, land was almost exclusively used for growing it now forms only 43.8 per cent of the total for that purpose."

The basis of much of the vegetable fats and oils is cottonseed and the increased cotton production this year is being paralleled by active preparation for increased production in the cottonseed mills.

ROOM BUYING CHECKED.
Distributors of a dozen basic commodities and manufacturers of products agree today that the slackening of room buying has been a feature of the business situation for two weeks. Cotton, which has been buying for speculation, but not buying for consumption, but to buying for speculation. Prices and conditions have progressed far toward relative stabilization and the opportunity for sweeping speculation in cotton and cottonseed oil is extraordinary. Price changes either up or down, have been materially lessened.

This is well illustrated in the textile trades. The amount of cotton, wool and silk actually going into consumption is such that speculative buying by manufacturers evidently has been reduced to a minimum.

Scores of cities throughout the country were voluntarily on a basis of daylight saving time yesterday in respect of lack of city ordinances providing for this change in schedule of time regulations prohibiting changing.

Philadelphia, for example, clocks were not changed, but banks, stock exchanges, commercial houses, stores and factories opened for business an hour earlier than usual and closed an hour later. All banking institutions have some one in charge an hour after their closing time to accommodate out-of-town banks, care for maturing paper and provide for any legal technicalities. Thus the agricultural sections will observe standard time and the city residents will select the hours of labor they desire in scores of districts.

NEW ACTS ARE ADDED TO FREE SHOW SATURDAY

Tribune and American Theater Arrange Program With Many Pretty Features.

Nearly every boy and girl in Oakland and vicinity are waiting patiently for Saturday morning, when they will be the guests of the TRIBUNE and American Theater at another one of those famous free kiddie shows, which are staged every few weeks for their benefit. All members of the Aunt Elsie and 60,000 clubs are invited, and their mothers are given a special invitation to attend and are asked to escort all youngsters under 10 years of age, or send their older brother and sisters with them.

The doors of the big theater open at 9 o'clock sharp, rain or shine, and all are asked to keep their places in the line.

TALENTED ARTISTS BILLED

The TRIBUNE will present a number of their clever and talented little juvenile artists in songs, dances and acts which are sure to amuse and please you. Heading the list will be "In a Chinese Tea Garden," a one-act play written by Beverly Swabey, director of Tribune Juveniles, and coached by Miss Bernice Claire Jahnigen, coach for specialty numbers. A number of clever little performers are in the cast, as follows: Wilma Bradbury as "Cherry Blossom," Dorothy Matthews as "Oo-Long," Kathryn Matthews and Arline Jorgenson as Mae Ling and Eva Lung, Adele Leahy as Ming Toy and Little Shirley Ives as Princess Singapore.

Two new little performers, Juanita Rose and Frankie Hibbard, are also in the act as little Chinese dancing and singing girls.

The act is supposed to depict a scene in a Chinese tea store and you will no doubt think the little performers have just arrived from China, as far as their costumes and makeup go.

OTHERS ON PROGRAM

Others on the program will be Irma Frazier in a special and new dance number, Harold Joseph Perry in old-time and popular song numbers, Dorothy Dunn and Dorothy Dunn, clever kiddie team will appear in a special waltz clog dance and song number, Freda Benker will appear in a waltz dance, Little Mabel Joseph, smallest boy singer in the troupe, will sing "Mickey O'Neil" and you'll wonder how such a small boy has such a strong voice. Bernice Blundin will sing the late song hit, "Topsy Turvey Town."

Another entirely new performer who is going to make a hit with you is Babe Petros, the little champion swimming girl from Alameda who is also some dancer and singer. She is to sing the character song hit, "Barney Coochie." Sounds like some program doesn't it?

"NTH COMMANDMENT." The American Theater will give you an advance showing of the "Nth Commandment," featuring that dainty, captivating little actress, Colleen Moore, who is an old-time favorite of yours. Over Sweeten popular orchestra leader, a 25-piece band of his musicians will provide a 10-minute program, which will even please more than the last one you put on for you. Remember, doors open rain or shine, at 9 o'clock sharp.

CAR FIRED ON WHILE PARKED IN OUTSKIRTS

Occupants of Moving Auto Shoot At Automobile Standing by Road.

The Oakland police are conducting a search through the East-bay district for auto bandits following a report made by William Harris of 451 Fourteenth street to the effect that he had been fired upon from another car while his machine was parked at the end of the Montclair bus line.

Harris said he was sitting in his machine at the time. Another car approached at high rate of speed and when it drew near one of the occupants fired a shot at his car. The occupants of the other car turned out the lights of their machine before firing the shot. The machine continued on its way at top speed after the shot was fired.

Harris reported the matter to the Piedmont police, but the case was turned over to the Oakland authorities, under whose jurisdiction it falls.

AMBASSADOR LEAVES BERLIN. BERLIN, May 2.—Alanson B. Houghton, the American ambassador, and his family, left for Bremen, where they will sail for the United States. During the absence of the Ambassador, Warren D. Robbins, counselor of embassy, will be charge d'affaires.

Here, There and Everywhere in the Eastbay

Let's Hope So. A Frenchman has invented a one-wheel auto. A local pedestrian says he hopes the wheel in question is a steering wheel.

Abe Martin

We kin allus tell a pedestrian when he sits down in a cafe 'cause he decides so quickly. The fellow that used to leave his umbrella hangin' on the bar now leaves the cellar light on.

Appropriate. An Eastbay traffic cop says that walking is such a gamble with death that the wheel in the new one-wheel auto should be a faro wheel.

A Natural Advantage. There's one advantage to the one-wheel car, according to a local auto fan. It saves tire bills.

Why Not These Records?

At noon today an Eastbay, young man, whose name shall be guarded, had worn the same collar for one hundred and twelve hours and showed no signs of yielding.

"CLARA" FIGHTS PHOTOGRAPHIC TAKING PICTURE

With Companion Attempts to Destroy Plates and Camera.

By HERMAN ROBLETO,

Written for the United Press. (Copyright, 1923, by United Press.)

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, May 2.—The woman held here as Clara Phillips, Los Angeles "hammer slayer," an other woman companion, succeeded in beating the photographer and a jail guard in a hand to hand fight over a camera. The photographer had gone to the jail to take the woman's picture. This she refused to permit, but he snapped the shutter anyway and despite the presence of the guard, the woman hurled herself upon him in an effort to destroy the plate.

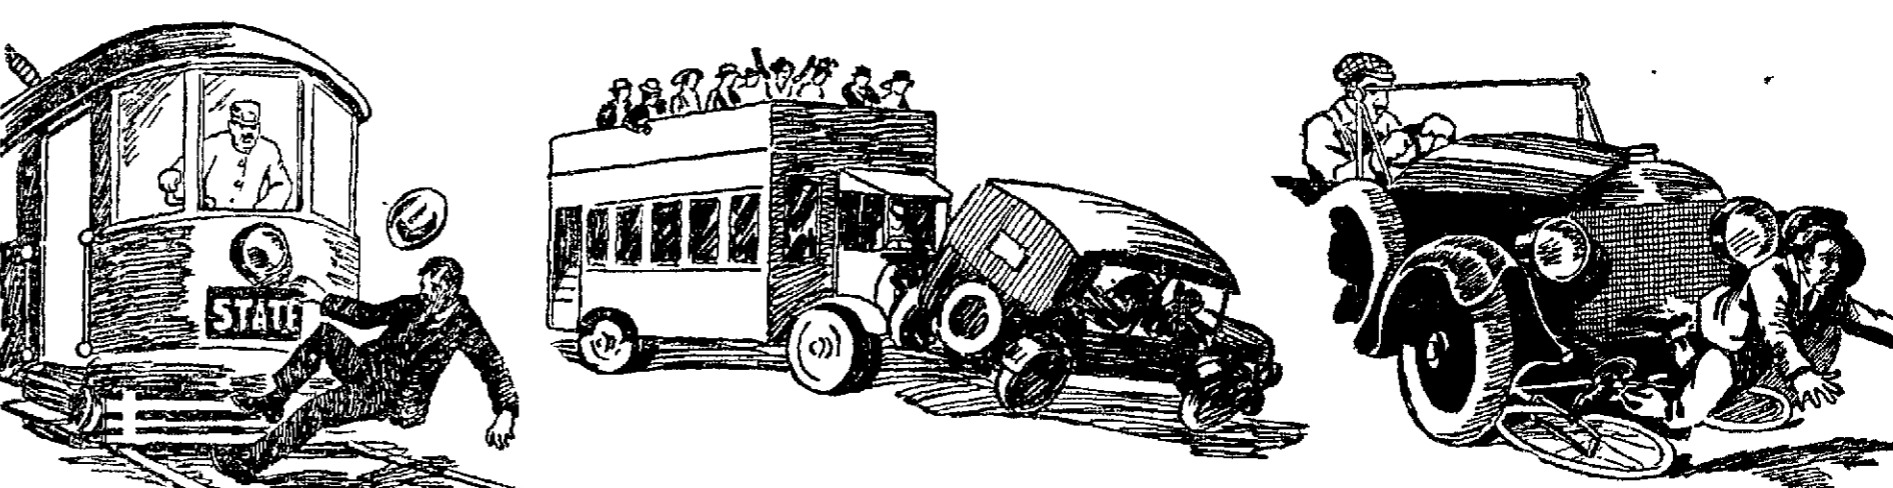

The express from coast to coast will entail a lot of overhead expense.

An Oakland Scotchman this afternoon let it be known that he has carried the same dollar bill in his pocket for seven months and thirteen days.

"I don't mind breaking an occasional record, but I'll never willingly break the dollar," he told the reporters.

MOTOR CARAVAN OF SHRINEDOM LEAVES OAKLAND

Local Delegation Starts On Long Trip to Council in Washington.

A part of the San Francisco Bay section of Shrine delegation to the Imperial Council to be held in Washington, D. C., in June left for the East in automobiles yesterday. The 10 cars comprising the Shrine caravan, which is to make the entire trip by motor, picking up new sections along the route, were headed by the same automobile that piloted the Eastern Shriners to the San Francisco conclave last year. It is expected that the California representation will be increased to 50 automobiles before the caravan leaves the State by way of the Arrowhead trail.

Several hundred Oakland citizens, including city officials and officers of the Shrine, took part in the official farewell when the cars pulled away from the Hotel Oakland at 2 o'clock yesterday. Just prior to the departure the pilot car was officially christened by Robert Warwick, Fulton Theatre star.

Following the christening Mayor Davis presented W. H. Pinkston with letters to the mayors of the principal cities through which the caravan will pass.

Represented in the caravan when it left here were members of the Ashmies Temple, Oakland; Islam, San Francisco, and Karak, Nevada. Hartman B. Childs, who drove from Reno to make the official start, was Nevada's lone representative.

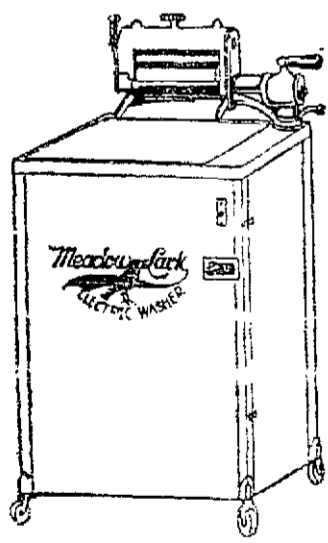

The party will spend tonight in Stockton, tomorrow night in Fresno and will spend the third night at the Lebeck Lodge in the Tehachapi mountains. They will arrive in Los Angeles early Friday morning. The caravan will leave the State on the evening of May 7. The Shrine will be represented by Shrine temples along the route and by the Chambers of Commerce in many of the cities which they will visit. At nearly every stop additional cars will be added to the caravan and when the party finally turns on Pennsylvania avenue on the afternoon of June 4 it is expected that nearly 500 cars will be in line.

Friendly Autoist Robbed By Soldiers

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2.—An act of kindness proved costly to Charles B. Drake of 1175 O'Farrell street early today when he was beaten and robbed by two men in soldiers' uniforms who ran off with his automobile.

Drake was passing Stockton and Union streets when two men, dressed as soldiers, asked him for a lift, saying they were going to the Presidio. Drake consented to take them and, at Buchanan and Chestnut streets, they suddenly set upon him, beat him over the head, threw him to the floor of the car, and went through his pockets. After they had taken $5, they kicked him into the street and drove off in the machine. Police in the north end station and officers at the Presidio are looking for the pair.

Patriotism Is Note of Oakland May Day Fete

While Europe yesterday was wrecked by disorderly demonstrations of radicalism, the public May Day services held in Oakland under the direction of the Veterans of Foreign Wars were of a solely patriotic nature. A large class of foreign-born residents of the city took the oath of American citizenship, and an Americanization program was presented by the school children. The picture shows the children saluting the flag.

CHURCH ERECTS 3 23 BUILDINGS

CHICAGO, May 2.—(By Associated Press.)—Twenty-three buildings a week are being erected wholly or in part by the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Episcopal Church, at a weekly expense of $53,112, according to figures compiled for the committee on conservation and advance. Previously only 12,000 building projects have been put through in fifty years.

In rural and frontier mission fields 2,950 pastors are being maintained wholly or in part by the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension, each pastor serving from one to four communities on the "circuit-riding" basis. Schools for training these men are held each summer at twenty-nine different Methodist colleges and institutes. Two hundred negro pastors also are on the pay-roll of the board. There are in addition 800 pastors in the board's specialty trained Christian social workers in congested city centers of population, and the Gospel is preached in nineteen languages by 995 home mission pastors.

These figures do not include self-supporting Methodist churches whose contributions to the benevolent enterprises of the church as a whole constitute a substantial part of the $100,000,000 centenary fund pledged by Methodists the world over.

Fire in Wire Pit Halts Telephoning

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2.—The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company was forced to call off its emergency engineers today as the result of a fire in a wire pit on Market street between Towell and Stockton. Crossed wires are supposed to have caused the blaze. It is said that many telephones in the downtown section were temporarily put out of business. An investigation disclosed that most of the damage had been done to trunk lines. The repair work was expected to consume most of the day.

ENGINES BAD; SUBMARINES' WORK PRAISED

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2.—Concerning the recent U. S. fleet maneuvers off Panama, Commander Fred C. Sherman, U. S. N., commanding submarine division nine, battle fleet, said today:

"The boats of my fleet, although of only 540 tons displacement, and with engines not thoroughly reliable, were operated as fleet submarines during the maneuvers at Panama. These submarines were under a great handicap when it came to maintaining the speed of the fleet under varying weather conditions and long distances.

"The war problem off Panama, on the Pacific side, for submarines was in the nature of an overseas expedition inasmuch as our undersea craft had to cruise 2000 miles before getting to the point where the problem began. This means long hours of wear and tear on both the men and the machinery.

"Despite the lack of fresh food and water, the double shifts in the engine room, due to engine troubles, and other trying conditions, such as the untiring spirit of the men that the submarines in their operations won from Admiral E. W. Eberle, commander and chief of the battle fleet, high praise.

SAMPLE BALLOTS SENT TO VOTERS

City Clerk E. K. Sturgis has started to mail sample ballots preliminary to the general election May 8. He held up the ballot, though printed until the official result of the Davis majority recount was announced.

The ballot is short. It concerns but four offices and has eight names. For commissioner No. 1, W. H. Edwards and W. J. Moorehead will contend. The rest are: For school director No. 1, H. S. Craig and Nannie Kramer; for school director No. 2, J. E. Chandler and Nettie May Miller; for school director No. 3, J. J. Allen Jr. and Maud Doyle.

The formation of the water district, the estuary tube bonds and like matters are outside the city of Oakland jurisdiction and must be handled by the county, according to City Clerk Sturgis.

TOO MUCH EXCITEMENT.
LONDON (United Press).—J. T. Egham, 83, retired miller, decided that he had been living too quietly since his retirement and went to Eastbourne to mix with the Easter holiday crowds. As he left his hotel, a mad bull broke loose in the street and charged him. He just beat the bull to a tree. Then he went to the beach nearby to seek peace and fell over a low cliff into the sea. He was fished out and went back to retirement.

MANY FOREIGNERS TAKE CITIZEN'S OATH AT IDORA

Ceremony Followed by Folk Songs and Dances From Foreign Lands.

A large class of foreign-born men and women yesterday received citizenship at the Americanization ceremonies of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at Idora park yesterday. Superior Judge Lincoln S. Church administered the oath of allegiance. Judge Church addressed the assembly with a plea for Americanism founded on the traditions of the Nation and warned against the spirit of radicalism growing out of modern theories of government. The ceremony was followed by folk songs and dances of foreign countries presented by members of the Americanization class. The affair was under the direction of Hascall F. Waterhouse Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Planters of Toyons Must Be Patient

Of the thousands of citizens who came to the park department headquarters, asking for toyon berries to plant, many are returning to the park department and asking why the berries will not blossom.

Park Superintendent Lee Kerfoot has issued an official communication to allay the panic. "The toyons are not expected to berry within three or four weeks," says Kerfoot. "Everything's all right. The toyons are perfectly all right. There is nothing the matter. Nothing is lost. In a few weeks all will be well."

Kerfoot asks the public "not to be discouraged," and is now busily consoling citizens as they stream to the park headquarters. "Oakland," says Kerfoot, "will soon have a splendid crop of toyons in a month or so. Let the planters have patience."

MOONEY ASSERTS HIS KISSES WERE BROTHERLY ONES

In Answer to Wife's Com- plaint He Says Spouse Did Not Object.

Denying all implications of familiarity toward Mrs. Esriel Mooney, of San Francisco, W. S. Mooney, former Oakland promoter today filed an answer to the amended complaint for divorce filed by Mrs. Marion Mooney, Oakland society woman. The Mooney case heard before Superior Judge J. J. Trabucco last week, attracted considerable attention.

When Mrs. Mooney's complaint was amended it was to include her allegations that Mooney made improper advances to Mrs. Mooney. The latter took the stand during the trial and testified that Mooney attempted to kiss her on two occasions.

In his answer Mooney admits that he has kissed Mrs. Mooney, not on two occasions only, but many times. He sets forth that she was an old family friend and that his caresses were given in the light of brotherly affection only.
